Sullen Anti-Red Prisoners Decline To Be Interviewed

DOVER BRIDGE HAS FALLEN DOWN. A major traffic headache is shaping up for Boston following collapse of this bridge after a fire. Known as the Dover St. span, it is one of the main links between south Shore and Cape Cod area and downtown Boston. The fallen girders also blocked part of the tracks of the New Haven Railroad and a railroad crane is already at work (right) trying to clear the tracks. This view is looking toward Boston.

Korean War Toll in Excess Of 3 Million

UNITED NATIONS, N Y —Final casualty figures for the Korean War, still clouded by uncertainty over the fate of thousands missing who may be dead, indicated today that both sides suffered a toll of more than three million.

Based on figures from official and U. N. delegation sources, total casualties for the U. N. side are figured at 1,474,269, of which the Republic of Korea total is 1,312,636; the United States total 144,173; and the total for the 15 U. N. allies 17,269.

In all but a few instances, the figures ran past the July 7 armistice date.

Total Scaled Down

Pentagon sources in Washington, basing their figures on a roundup they made in July, estimated Communist casualties, killed and wounded, at 1,420,000, and prisoners at another 120,000 for a total of 1,540,000—scaled down from an estimate last April of 1,876,000

The United States still has 7,955 listed missing. The Defense Department early this month said they "must eventually be presumed dead." The department stand drew protests from families of some in New England.

Along with almost complete casualty tolls, delegation sources have revealed that the U. N. allies actually put onto the front thousands more of men, through rotation and replacement, than the standard size of the unit. From three to six times the strength of the unit finally served on the front.

Turkey, for example, with a unit of 5,000 men, had personnel numbering 29,882 during the three years Turkish troops were on the front.

Troop losses generally figured in ratio to the standard size of the unit involved.

Breakdown of Casualties

This was the breakdown of U N. casualties:

Republic of Korea: dead 415,004, wounded 428,568, missing 459,428, returned prisoners of war 7,848, prisoners still claimed to be in enemy hands 1,988. Total 1,312,836

United States: dead 25,604, wounded 105,961, missing and presumed dead 7,955 (as of Oct. 9), captured and returned 4,631 (adjustment of Aug. 19 figures), prisoners now in repatriation compound 22. Total 144,173.

Britain: dead 710, wounded 2,278, missing 1,263, captured 766. Total 5,017.

Canada: dead 291, wounded 1,072, missing 21, captured 12 Total 1,396.

Turkey: dead 717, wounded 2,246, missing 167, captured 219. Total 3,349.

Australia: dead 291, wounded 1,249, missing 39, captured 21. Total 1,591.

France: dead 288, wounded 818, missing 18, captured 11. Total 1,135.

Greece: dead 169, wounded 543, missing 2, captured 1. Total 715

Thailand: dead 14, wounded 794, missing 5, Total 913.

Ethiopia: dead 120, wounded 536. Total 656.

Colombia: dead 140, wounded 452, missing 65, captured 29. Total 686

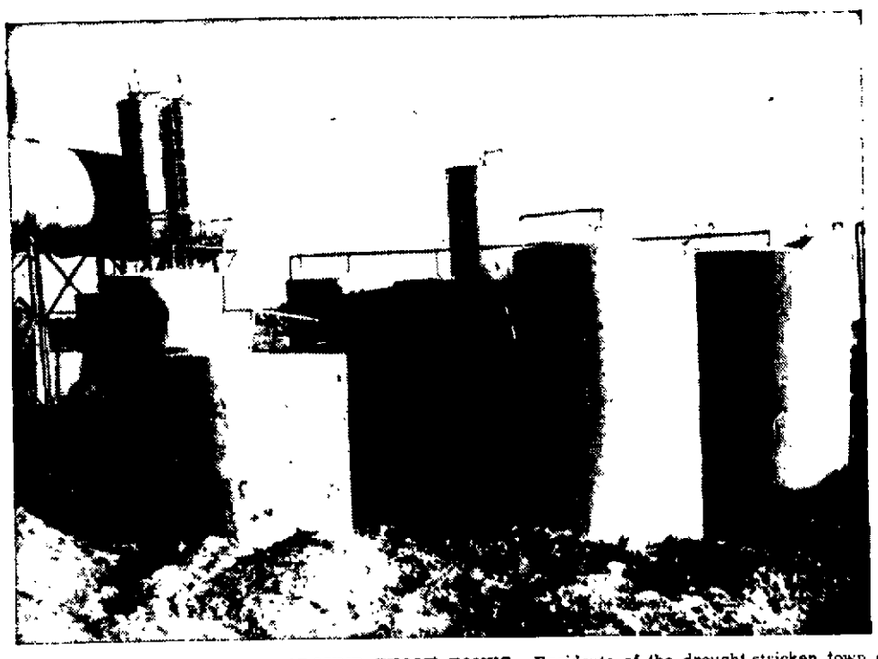
Belgium-Luxembourg: dead 97, wounded 350, missing 5, captured 1. Total 453.

Philippines: dead 92, wounded 299, missing 57, captured 40. Total 488

Netherlands: dead 111 wounded 589, missing 4. Total 704

New Zealand: dead 34, wounded 80, captured 1, Total 115.

South Africa: dead 20, missing 16, captured 6. Total 42



THEY WANT RAIN, BUT NOT AROUND THOSE TANKS. Residents of the drought-stricken town of Horse Cave, Ky., hope it rains soon and hope it doesn't. Their dilemma: if rain falls in the area, the crops will benefit, but the rain may also cause these 45,000 gallons of stored chemicals to give off poisonous fumes. The chemicals, seeping from the tanks, would give off a deadly gas when mixed with water. Kentucky's Gov. L. W. Wetherby asked the White House and the Army for help, but both disclaimed responsibility.

Indians Fail In Bid To Get Talks Going

Korean Prisoners Hold Out Against Commission Efforts

PANMUNJOM —Red efforts to persuade anti-Communist Korean War prisoners to return home appeared today to be stalled at least until next week and there was no indication whether the POWs would call off a sitdown which threatens the armistice

The prisoners had been expected to announce a decision today. But in mid-afternoon an informed source said the North Koreans would wait at least until Monday to reply to Indian efforts to get the explanation program going again

No Progress Reported

The Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission met for two hours today then recessed without reporting progress on the problem of coaxing balky anti-Red Koreans to attend Communist interviews

The explanation program has been suspended since Monday when the Koreans threatened a mass breakout if forced to attend. Communist Poland and Czechoslovakia walked out when the other three commission members—Switzerland, Sweden and India—voted against forcing the POWs to attend.

Polish and Czech members returned yesterday, but only to renew their demand that the Koreans be forced to hear Communist explanations. The Reds refuse to interview anti-Red Chinese prisoners who are willing to attend the sessions in place of the Koreans.

Promises Statement

After the commission meeting today, Lt. Gen. K. S. Thimayya, the Indian chairman, said he would have a statement Saturday. He declined to say anything about the possibility of a solution.

He said the problem of the balky Korean POWs was discussed today and that the Communists repeatedly demanded that explanation sessions be scheduled.

Thimayya said the commission could not agree on the amount of force needed to get the Korean prisoners out of their compounds and the possible consequences of such action.

6 More Grass, Rubbish Fires Reported Here

Chief Asks Parents To Stress Danger of Burning Leaves Now

Fire Chief Owen A. Sifritt today asked parents to warn their children about the dangers of bonfires and grass fires which can easily spread out of control. He issued the warning after reporting the fire department had been called out Thursday to put out six fires which had gotten out of control. Some of them were set by children, he said.

Sifritt said that with the approach of Halloween, children were more apt to do things which might result in serious consequences, and called upon parents to use authority to prevent possible serious damage

Two Calls at Same Time

Two of the fires Thursday happened at the same time, 1:45 p.m. One happened at 583 Emerson Ave. when a bonfire spread to the grass and some rubbish, causing no loss. It was extinguished by the Marion Township truck and the truck from the W. Center St. station

The other fire at that time was at the rear of 353 Park Blvd. There, another bonfire spread to the grass and was threatening an anchor pole of the C and O Railroad Firemen from the Central station were called. No loss was reported

At 4 55 p m., a discarded match started a fire at Lincoln Park. Leaves began to burn, but the fire was extinguished by men on the township truck before any damage could be done.

Bonfire Spreads

Another bonfire which spread to grass and weeds was reported at 6 02 p.m. at the rear of 941 S. Prospect St. Again, the township truck arrived before property was damaged.

Weeds and grass caught fire at the rear of 511 Patterson St at 7:35 p.m. The township truck extinguished the blaze. No loss was reported.

A discarded match set fire to weeds in a ditch on Bennett St just west of Clinton St at 11 45 p m The township truck extinguished this fire also

A fire which could not be blamed on bonfires or discarded matches was reported this morning at 9 15. A house outside of town south of The Sawyer Sanatarium was slightly damaged According to fire department reports, a defective flue caused a fire on the ceiling, doing about $75 damage The owner of the house was not determined.

Flood Toll Near 100 In Southern Italy

REGGIO CALABRIA, Italy — Rescue workers searched today through wrecked homes in a dozen small villages of this southern Italian province for victims of devastating flash floods that may have claimed as many as 100 lives.

Torrential rains continued to pour on the stricken area from Reggio Calabria along the Ionian Sea this morning. They stopped abruptly at noon, but heavy gray clouds still hung over the area, threatening new downpours

In the Reggio Calabria area alone 53 dead have been accounted for. Scores are missing.

Living Standard Hike?

Production Boosts Decreed by Russia

MOSCOW —The Soviet government ordered a giant step-up today in the production and distribution of consumer goods. It was part of the big drive announced by the Malenkov government Oct. 8 to boost the living standard of the Russian people.

A two-page decree, issued by the Soviet Council of Ministers and the Communist party's Central Committee, ordered a 72 per cent increase over the 1950 output of consumer goods—in terms of money value—by the end of next year.

Other Phases

It also called for:

1. The opening of 40,000 new stores and 11,000 new restaurants and dining halls by the end of 1956.

2. A brushup by all Soviet internal trade organizations of their services to the public and the elimination of backward distribution methods.

3. The training of additional personnel in order to give the Soviet consumer the best service he has ever received.

The decree, a counterpart of recent Soviet moves aimed at increasing the nation's farm output, admitted that Soviet consumer goods arrangements have fallen short of satisfying the needs of the people. It said:

"The organization of the public food supply is backward. There are insufficient dining halls and restaurants and the people must wait too long to be served Sale and distribution of building materials is inadequate."

The new consumer goods schedule replaces one included in the 1950 five-year plan that called for a 70 per cent increase in the monetary volume of domestic goods trade by the end of 1955.

Percentage Increases

The decree listed percentage increases ordered in a number of commodities, as compared with the old five-year plan schedule. Among them were:

Meat—230 per cent by the end of 1954, instead of 90 per cent by the end of 1955.

Butter—190 per cent, instead of 70.

Furniture—400 per cent, instead of 300.

Clothing—240 per cent, instead of 80.

Sewing machines—510 per cent, instead of 200

Radio and television sets—440 per cent, instead of 200.

Refrigerators, washing machines, vacuum cleaners — 1,000 per cent of the five-year plan aim. (No figure was given for the original production boost goal.)

Stores were ordered to watch for improvement in the quality of goods and to reject shoddy products. Sales organizations were told to clear out old-fashioned stocks with 30-per-cent-off bargain sales. Factories were instructed to put out catalogues and improve their assortment of goods.

PUCO Order Eases Ban on Space Heating

COLUMBUS, Ohio —The state utilities commission today approved gas heating furnaces for at least 10,700 more Ohio families

The total approvals for this year could run much higher under the commission's latest formal gas order.

The commission in the middle of last September held extensive hearings to determine the amount of gas available in Ohio for heating purposes this winter, and demands for new heating units.

Today's order applied to the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. of Columbus which serves 361 communities in 49 counties, and wholesale customers of that firm.

It's largest wholesale customers are Dayton Power and Light Co., and the Cincinnati Gas and Electric Co.

GOP Clamor Continues

President, Benson Confer On Nation's Farm Policy

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two Republican senators said today they expect Congress next year to extend rigid price supports for basic farm crops and perhaps extend the program to additional commodities.

The prediction came from Senators Mundt (R-SD) and Payne (R-Me) after Sen. Young (R-ND) issued a tart statement saying President Eisenhower's decision not to stump for GOP candidates in the 1954 congressional campaigns "will help the Republicans greatly in the Midwest."

Young, who opposed confirmation of Secretary of Agriculture Benson's appointment, said the "administration's lack of farm policy and their multibillion-dollar glorified Truman giveaway foreign program are very unpopular" in the Middle West.

Neither Mundt nor Payne had any comment on Young's blast, the sharpest yet from a Republican lawmaker in the midst of growing controversy over farm problems and Benson's attitude toward them.

Eisenhower, who strongly defended Benson at a news conference two days ago, arranged to confer with his secretary of agriculture at the White House today Also to take part in the luncheon conference were Don Paarlberg,

Arraignment Set Saturday In Murder Case

Schinagle Expected To Plead Not Guilty to First Degree Charge

UPPER SANDUSKY—Roy Roger Schinagle, 19, of Mayfield Heights, indicted by the Wyandot County grand jury here on a charge of first degree murder, will be arraigned before Common Pleas Judge Russell H. Kear at 10 a.m. Saturday.

A copy of the indictment was served on the young prisoner in the jail Wednesday night. Ohio law provides for 24 hours in which an accused may study the indictment before he may be arraigned Previous committments took Judge Kear out of town Friday and the time of the preliminary hearing was set for Saturday morning.

The confessed slayer of his campus sweetheart has been held in jail here since Tuesday, Sept. 22. The body of the former co-ed, clad in a nightgown and the red shoes that established her identity, was found in a woodlot near here Friday, Sept. 18.

Defense Attorney Raymond H Stansbery of Upper Sandusky said his client was depressed by the return of a first degree indictment He had hoped for a second degree charge after telling officers about the disagreement that led to the strangling and bludgeoning of Cynthia Pfeil, 19, of White Plains, New York.

The parents of the prisoner, Mr. and Mrs. Roy R. Schinagle, Sr., are expected to visit him Sunday, as they have regularly each Sunday and Wednesday since he was brought here from Delaware for questioning about the missing girl he admitted bringing to the woods near here after choking her unconscious on the Ohio Wesleyan campus.

Stansbery said his client will plead not guilty to the first degree charge, and added a request will be made to the court for a sanity examination at Lima before the trial. Attorney Stansbery said he had discussed the case with Cleveland attorney William J Corrigan, but was not yet certain if the well-known Cleveland lawyer will enter the case as an associate counsel for the defense.

British Commons Backs Churchill Guiana Policy

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Churchill's government won a decisive vote of confidence last night on its drastic action in throwing out British Guiana's left-wing government and suspending the colony's constitution.

The House of Commons, after a heated five-hour debate, beat down by a vote of 294-256 a Labor amendment denouncing the government's moves. Then the House endorsed without a count the government's policy.

Columbus Youth, 20, Leads Police on Chase

COLUMBUS, Ohio —It took 8 police cruisers, 3 roadblocks and a dozen gunshots to stop a 20-year-old Columbus youth last night.

Police said William Charles Redfern attempted to run down four officers during the 90-mile-an-hour chase.

After it was all over, Redfern calmly told police he "just had a few beers and was stepping it up to get away from the cops." Police counted 12 bullet holes in Redfern's car Redfern is being held for investigation.

Pickens Found Guilty in Fatal Traffic Mishap

A sentence of one to 20 years in the Mansfield Reformatory was imposed Thursday afternoon by a three-judge panel on Willie Pickens, 22, of 505 Jefferson St., after the court found him guilty of manslaughter in the second degree.

Pickens was charged with manslaughter following the July 19 deaths of H. W. Crissinger, 71, and Harry Mathias, 56, both of Marion, in a traffic collision on Route 30-S near Caledonia. They were passengers in a car driven by Dan Matthews, 33, also of Marion. The Pickens and Matthews cars collided head-on near Caledonia.

A third passenger in the Matthews car, Harold B. Harper, 49, also of Marion, died Aug. 19 of injuries received in the accident.

About 40 persons were in the courtroom when the verdict was announced. Attorneys for both Pickens and the state rested their cases shortly before 3 p.m. when the three judges retired to consider the case.

They announced their unanimous verdict shortly before 4 p m Judges hearing the case were Marion T. Owen of Urbana, F Leroy Allen of Marysville, and Paul D Smith of Marion.

No Real Cause To Be Fired, LaRosa Says

WASHINGTON —Singer Julius La Rosa prepared for a show-must-go-on performance tonight amid publicity ripples from his abrupt firing by Arthur Godfrey.

Godfrey, whose calm good humor has made him a television Titan, gave the young Brooklyn baritone his sailing papers last Monday. That was a swan song, Godfrey told his morning viewers as La Rosa finished singing

"At first," La Rosa told a news conference last night through incipient tears, "I didn't know what he meant. I had never heard the

Labor Strike Hits Columbus Plane Factory

12,500 N. American Employes Leave Jobs; Los Angeles Affected

LOS ANGELES —CIO United Auto Workers went on strike at 12:01 a. m. today at the North American Aviation Co., plant here, three hours after some 12,500 other members of the union had struck at the company's factory in Columbus, Ohio.

The walkout here was orderly. Picket lines, with some marchers carrying signs, formed at plant gates. The company said 5,700 employes were working when the strike took effect. 700 of them office and clerical workers not represented by the union.

Break Off Negotiations

Wage and other contract negotiations, begun Sept 1 and continued intermittently throughout the day yesterday, were broken off at 9 30 p. m. The contract expired at midnight.

No time was set for a renewal of discussions Federal Conciliator John Fenton said he would remain in touch with both sides and call them into session whenever either indicated it wanted another parley.

About 28,000 employes are involved in the walkout here and at Columbus. UAW officials say Strike action was scheduled to extend to a smaller North American plant at Fresno, Calif. The Fresno contract doesn't expire until midnight tonight.

Leave Jobs Early

In Columbus, more than 3,000 second shift employes left their jobs two hours before the usual quitting time at the big warplane factory. Pickets arrived at the plants there 20 minutes before the strike was scheduled to start. Some workers sounded their auto horns to signal the start of the walkout Extra guards were added by the company at plant gates

The company management said plants will remain open and an effort made to continue production through "the use of all legal means."

2 Marion Men Hurt in Mishap

Haas, Bechtle Suffer Head Injuries in Crash

Arthur Haas, general secretary of the Marion YMCA, and Karl Bechtle, president of Hall-Beck Equipment Co., were injured in an automobile accident at the corner of S State and E Columbia St. Thursday night at 8 38.

Haas, 37, of 655 Irey Ave., suffered injuries of the head and right ankle Bechtle, 36, of 659 Irey Ave., received a head injury. Both men were taken to City Hospital where they were treated and released

According to the police report, the accident happened as the car driven by Bechtle, in which Haas was a passenger, was southbound on S State St. when it and a car driven west on E Columbia St by Wayne E Piatt, 20, of near Delaware collided.

The police report shows the right side of Piatt's car was badly damaged, while the front end of Bechtle's car was smashed Both cars had to be towed from the scene of the wreck No arrests were made.

One other accident was reported by city police State patrolmen reported none

A minor accident happened at 11 40 a m. Thursday when a car driven by Mrs. Lavina A Murphy of 734 Uncapher Ave struck a car owned by Alfred W Whittington 34, of 853 Merkel Ave, and parked in front of 486 Bellefontaine Ave

The left rear of the parked car was damaged, as was the right front of Mrs. Murphy's car.

Would Include Foreign Aid

Proposed 'One-Package' Defense Budget Praised

WASHINGTON (AP) — A reported "one package" budget, in which the administration would wrap together its national defense and foreign military aid requests, drew praise and a word of caution today from Sen. Mundt (R-SD).

"Constructive and useful," was his comment to a reporter. He said he liked the idea of "lumping together total U. S. defense needs, both at home and abroad," when congressional appropriations are sought.

But Mundt, a member of the Senate Appropriations Committee, suggested the foreign end of such a request would get closer scrutiny than the part earmarked for the Army, Navy and Air Force.

Sen. H Alexander Smith (R-NJ), a Foreign Relations Committee member, called the reported tie-in plan "very interesting." In a separate interview he added:

"Of course, we can sometimes get more value out of a dollar spent abroad than for home defense. It is in the best selfish interest of the country to do that."

Administration officials, declining use of their names, said a one-package, home-and-abroad defense bill is under serious consideration by the Eisenhower administration

Its purpose, as described by

New Accident Report System Started in Ohio

Cpl D M DeWalt of the local Patrol station today reminded persons in this area of a new law affecting accident reports.

From now on, only one report will be made by law enforcement agencies involved in accident investigations.

Originally the law called for two copies of the report, one to be furnished to the Highway Safety Department and the other to the Department of Highways. However, the director of The Department of Highways has waived his right to receive the reports, meaning only one copy will have to be filed with the state.

Forms to be used in making the reports have been distributed to all police agencies in the state and supplies have been delivered to all auto clubs for use in their areas.

Information on the reports will be analyzed and used by the Highway Safety Department in its statewide program. Also the reports will be available to certain persons as provided by law. Reports may be obtained by persons seeking information on an accident in which they were involved or where they suffered property damage.

The only other persons to obtain reports are legal representatives of persons involved in accidents. The new law which was effective Oct. 16 eliminates the old system of obtaining accident reports from the state highway patrol posts. The new accident reports can be obtained only at patrol general headquarters in Columbus. Special application forms must be filled out by those requiring reports. Forms are available at all patrol posts.

6 To Plead Guilty To Ohio Pen Riot, Prosecutor Says

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Lawrence A. Ramey, assistant Franklin County prosecutor, says six men will plead guilty today to rioting at Ohio Penitentiary last Halloween.

The men will make the pleas on the rioting charges rather than face charges of malicious destruction, which carries a 1-7 year sentence, he said. Reason for the plea is the recent acquittal by a criminal court of William St. Cyr on the more serious charge. The six are:

Gerald L. Smith, 24, sentenced in 1949 from Cuyahoga County for one to 25 years for auto theft; Junius Jones, 25, Hamilton County, one to five years for housebreaking in 1949; Richard E. Mauch, 30, Allen County, one to 15 years for burglary in 1943; Donald Burson, 38, Fairfield County, 10 to 25 years in 1949 for armed robbery; Frank Baughman, 34, Hamilton County, 1 to 25 years for auto theft in 1946; and Jasper Jones, 30, Hamilton County, one to 25 years for housebreaking in 1949.

Faculty Introduced At Meeting of PTA

The Pearl Street School PTA held its first meeting of the season recently at the schools. Members of the faculty were introduced by the principal, Miss Clara Alice Wilson. Devotions were conducted by Mrs. Thelma Wilcox.

Mrs. Robert Wolfinger, music chairman, introduced Julia Gorman who presented two flute selections. She was accompanied by Anita Porter at the piano. The attendance award went to Mrs Myra Saunders' second grade room.

The group went on record in favor of the state-wide proposal to create a state board of education. The question will be voted on at next month's election. The ways and means committee announced plans to sell light bulbs from Oct. 29 to Nov. 6. Proceeds from the sale will go toward the purchase of a new projector for the school.

He was surprised to find himself clutching a wig.

Ike's Economic Aides Consult West Coast Businessmen

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Aware some signs of business hesitation already are visible, President Eisenhower's economic "team" Wednesday opened a closed session with more than 100 top industrial leaders.

From the three-day meeting with the Commerce Department's Business Advisory Council, four Cabinet officers and a contingent of lesser lights from Washington hoped to obtain first-hand reports on business trends.

Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey, Secretary of Commerce Weeks, Secretary of the Army Stevens and Secretary of Interior McKay were on hand or due.

From advance reports, industry and government men were fairly well agreed that "readjustment" is evident in some industries which could lead to a moderate rise in unemployment.

Secrecy Need Hampers Progress

AEC in Dilemma Over Atomic Power

By JAMES MARLOW

This was the public reaction anticipated by Thomas E. Murray, member of the Atomic Energy Commission, when he announced yesterday the government will build an atomic plant to produce electricity.

This plant, the government's first full scale attempt to turn atomic power to peaceful use, will cost between 20 and 60 million dollars and produce enough electrical energy for a city of 50,000.

It won't be in operation for three or four years. It will be a pilot plant. The power it produces when finished will cost more than power from non-atomic plants.

But the information learned from building it will be useful later in building larger plants—a distant goal for getting cheap, practical and peaceful benefit from atomic energy.

This is an answer to anyone who may have thought that if the arms race with Russia ended tomorrow, the county could suddenly blossom out with atomic plants to provide power at less than the cost of other fuels.

In anticipating a dull public response to the news, Murray said the fault may be the AEC's because while concentrating on winning the atomic weapons race it has failed to let the people know the importance of the other race going on with Russia: development of nuclear power for peace.

"Our people," he said, "badly need direction. We will not win this power race unless, as a nation, we have as great a will to win it as we have to stay ahead in the weapons race."

Murray pointed out the AEC is in a dilemma: while flatly stating the public should have more information, he emphasized a need for secrecy in much of the work connected with atomic development.

This includes even its development for peaceful, practical use like electric power, since Russia could use for weapon development what it learned about practical atomic plants.

This is one of the reasons, he said, why the government has to be careful about letting private industry participate in atomic construction. But he said that isn't the only reason.

Murray said that before deciding to go ahead with this new peacetime kind of plant, the AEC had to face a fundamental question: would private industry, if permitted to do so by law, enter "aggressively into the full scale power" construction and testing stage? The commission decided the answer was no.

As an example, he cited the General Electric Co., largest operator for atomic reactor plants for AEC. He said General Electric offered to build a reactor "but only if the government paid the entire bill."

The AEC has picked Westinghouse as main contractor on the plant because, Murray said, of its experience with a similar reactor for military use.

Murray, the latest AEC member to be heard on the subject of private industry's role in atomic energy, said:

"As privately financed efforts gain momentum, the work should gradually be transferred from the federal government so that eventually industry will be carrying the greater part of the burden of this industrial development."

Gordon Dean, former AEC chairman, told the Senate-House Committee on Atomic Energy six days before he stepped out June 30 that this country has not yet reached the point of being able to produce atomic energy economically. It's on the "near horizon," he said.

Dean's successor, Lewis. L. Strauss, told the same committee on July 31 he wants to see government monopoly on atomic development ended but that it can't be until world conditions quiet down. When will that be? He said he hoped it would be "in our lifetime."

But the AEC may propose to Congress next year changes in the atomic energy law to get private industry to take a greater part in development.

Parole Violator Gets Violent, Serves Time

HAGERSTOWN, Md (AP)—Joseph D Swope, convicted last March of collecting money under false pretenses and given a suspended sentence, was brought into Circuit Court again yesterday.

He was charged with representing himself as a preacher and collecting money for a church broadcast.

Handcuffed and held by deputies, Swope was given his original sentence of three years in the house of correction.

91-Year-Old Pilot Takes Family for Ride on Birthday

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — A licensed pilot celebrated his 91st birthday yesterday by taking four generations of his family and some friends on a flight.

James W (Dad) Montee is credited by the Civil Aeronautics Administration with being the nation's oldest active licensed pilot.

He was at the controls during much of the flight in a Grumann-Mallard 12-passenger amphibian from Santa Monica around Catalina Island and back to Long Beach and Santa Monica. His wife Margaret, 83, a daughter, two grandchildren, a great - granddaughter and two friends were along.

"I'll be flying a rocket ship before I get too old," Montee said after landing.

Water Too Low, Fish Didn't Have a Chance

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP)—Rhode Island today suspended fishing in four fresh water ponds in the interests of giving the fish a sporting chance. Edward C. Hayes Jr., a state fish and game official, said the water is so low, some men have been scooping the fish out in pails and baskets.

Apple Is Expensive For Baltimore Resident

BALTIMORE (AP)—An apple cost Chester Roginski more than $10 yesterday.

He was arrested by Patrolman Frank Kuhn when he was found fighting with Oscar Tabackman, a produce merchant, and fined $10 and costs.

Magistrate Simon Schonfield was told that Roginski took the apple from a box in front of Tabackman's store and failed to pay for it.

Chadwick Has No Figure Problem

Swimming Keeps Channel Champ Fit

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—The next time your wife complains she is getting pudgy and doesn't know how to regain her schoolgirl figure—tell her to go jump in the English Channel

That is, of course, if she can swim.

"I certainly can recommend channel swimming for any woman who wants to lose weight," said Florence Chadwick, who has swum more channels than you find on the average television set.

Before swimming the English Channel—it was getting so habit-forming with her she has finally given it up—Florence beefs up to a rugged 156 pounds by eating four hefty meals a day.

"I usually lose about five pounds crossing the channel," she said.

This summer she wound up a great career by paddling across every European channel where swimmers race against time. She swam from England to France, across the Gibraltar Straits, the Bosporus and the Dardenelles. Previously she had set a record from Catalina Island to the California mainland.

She is now 33, the same age at which Alexander the Great found no more worlds to conquer. But she isn't weeping about it. She simply is retiring.

"I've swam all the channels that have a record—and I hold the records," she said. "So ow is the time for me to quit. It was always a sport with me. I don't want to go on and become a stunt artist. I want to be remembered as an athlete."

Florence has slimmed down to 144, and has about 10 pounds more to go before she'll be happy.

"I don't drink or smoke and I've never tasted coffee in my life," she said. "But I sure love candy. That's my downfall. Sometimes I wake up with a chocolate hangover."

How can a pretty woman—and she is quite pretty and feminine—beat the world's most rugged men at the arduous game of distance swimming?

"Why, it's a known fact that women have less strength but more endurance than men," she said, as if surprised at the question. "So the longer the event, the better chance we have of breaking men's records."

Florence started competitive swimming at 6, and failed to place in one of her first races because she dropped her gum and stopped to look for it.

Her story is the saga of a girl who picked a dream young and stayed with it until she made it come true.

"My childhood idol was Gertrude Ederle—she still is—and I decided I wanted to swim the English Channel as she had."

Florence worked two years in Arabia as a comptometer operator for an oil company to save up $5,000 for the first of her three successful trips across the English Channel. Her tour this summer was sponsored by E. W Stewart, a swim suit manufacturer.

Her success has brought her a good income the last two years but not wealth. She hopes now to try one more channel and stay in it—on her own video sports program.

She figures she has swum an average of 18 miles a week for the last 27 years—or 25,272 miles, the distance around the earth.

"I wish I had a penny for every mile I've swum," she said, then looked a bit depressed when told that would come to exactly $252.72."

She still swims a mile every day before breakfast "to keep loosened up."

"I've been spending too much time in the water to have any romance in my life," she remarked. "But I haven't been lonely. If I get feeling mixed up, I jump in the water—and then I can think things through better.

"You know, those wolves ashore can cause more trouble than any sharks you meet in the water."

CANDIDATE SUES

CINCINNATI (AP) — Cincinnati's bitter councilmanic election fight got into the courts yesterday when one candidate sued another for $50,000. Oberlin String Trio To Present Lecture-Recital Club Program

First patroness program of the season for the public sponsored by the Lecture-Recital Club featuring a string trio from Oberlin College, will be Monday night at the Hotel Harding ballroom.

Miss Wilma Lee Goebel, daughter of Rev. J. Paul Goebel of First Evangelical and Reformed Church, and Mrs. Goebel who is active in music circles here, will be the violinist. Accompanying her will be Miss Ruth Wickersham, harpist, and Miss Juanita Pearson, pianist.

Orchestra Member

A graduate of Harding High School in Marion where her activities included orchestra and choir work, Miss Goebel is a member of the Oberlin orchestra as well as string trio. For her work in violin and theory, she was on the student honor roll last year. She is a pupil of Reber Johnson at the college, and a former pupil of Romine Hamilton of Ohio Wesleyan University at Delaware with whom she studied while attending high school.

Miss Wickersham, harp major, has studies with Salzedo, nationally known harpist, and is a member of the harp ensemble of Oberlin College directed by Mrs. Dorothy Henschen, former pupil of Salzedo The pianist, Miss Pearson, taking part in many music activities at the college, has studied with a Cincinnati College of Music professor

The program will include numbers by violin and piano, violin and harp, harp and piano, and piano and harp solos besides trio selection.

Opening violin and piano composition will be "Sonata in E Major," Handel, followed by "Midnight Bells," Henberger-Kreisler. Piano solos will be "Etude, Opus 10, No 3," Chopin, and "Etude in D Major,' Liszt.

Violin and harp presentations will be "Meditation from Thais," Massenet, "Arabesque No. 1," Debussy, and "Schon Rosmari," Kreisler." Harp solos will include "The Good Little King," French folk song, "Prelude," Ravel, "Song in the Night," Salzedo, and "En Bateau," Debussy. Harp and piano duets preceding the final trio piece will be "Clair de Lune," Debussy, and "Behind the Barracks," Salzedo.

The program committee of the club includes Mrs. Goebel, Mrs. George Lane, Mrs. Howard Hinamon, Mrs. John Lacey, and Mrs. Charles Campbell.

Time of the concert will be 8 o'clock Tickets are in the hands of both junior and senior members of Lecture-Recital Club and will be available at the door Admission for club members is program books.

CIRCLEVILLE, Ohio (AP)—Thomas Gordy of nearby Williamsport was killed yesterday afternoon in a two-car collision at the junction of U S. 22 and Ohio 104, the State Highway Patrol reported.

Winter's First Big Blizzard Traps 300 Wyoming Hunters

SHERIDAN, Wyo. —Full-scale search operations were underway today for 300 or more big game hunters trapped by winter's first big blizzard in rugged Big Horn National Forest near the Wyoming-Montana state line.

Gov. C J Rogers ordered the National Guard, the state Air Rescue Service and the state game and fish department to throw all their facilities into the search

Four-foot drifts blocked all main highways in the Big Horn Forest yesterday and many hunters had to abandon their automobiles

Forest service officials reported last night, however, the storm had abated and some hunters were beginning to trek out of the mountainous area.

A Light That Failed

The eighth anniversary of the United Nations on Oct. 24 is producing as many jeers as cheers. U N 's failure to fulfill the high hopes which attended its creation is the source of endless bitterness among the disillusioned.

But it may be clear even to the disillusioned in time that the United Nations did not disappoint its admirers because of anything wrong about its aims but because of a failure in people who lost sight of the aims.

The disillusioned have taken out their spite on an inanimate organization for something which went wrong with human nature when it was put inside the framework of that organization

The security council veto power which destined U N. to become a mere agency for consultation was originally the idea of the United States. The idea was seized upon by the Soviet Union and used thereafter to mock those who sought peace, liberty and economic security.

The spirit of cooperative good will which produced the United Nations Charter in the Dumbarton Oaks conference in 1944 was distorted into an atmosphere of mistrust, connivance and parliamentary jockeying for narrow advantages.

The United Nations has not failed. But there has been, as yet, no success for that side of human nature which, given the proper encouragement, can cause men to work as hard to get along together as they have worked since the dawn of history to destroy one another.

Angelenos Have Wings

A study of economic prospects for Los Angeles is being distributed on a nationwide basis by Southern California Research Council and will stimulate thinking in hundreds of other communities.

Two suppositions in the Los Angeles study will get special attention

First is the supposition that Los Angeles is typical, not unique, even though it is uniquely identified with aircraft production and shipbuilding, two activities unusually sensitive to cutbacks in defense spending.

Second is the supposition that these cutbacks, though expected, will not have maximum impact for two more years. After 1955, in the absence of planning and acting, Los Angeles could be in serious trouble.

Therefore, Los Angelenos should take a lively interest in new processes, new and improved products, more efficient production, new markets, new ways of merchandising what it needs to sell and ways to attract new industries They should plan their own future

The fastest-growing big city in the United States—a population increase of nearly 50 per cent from 1940 to 1950—has no intention of being put into a tailspin when the federal government cuts back on defense spending.

If hundreds of other communities in the same situation all shared the same determination, there wouldn't be so much high-level worrying in Washington. Local responsibility would be strengthening the federal government's hands.

What's New?

It is possible the politicians yammering for the head of Secretary of Agriculture Benson know what they're doing

But politicians can become victims of their own success. They think the formula on which they relied in the past is their best bet for the future

Things do change, even though the changes may be chapters out of the past. The Eisenhower administration, including Secretary Benson is betting there was firm evidence of a change in the presidential election a year ago

There was a violent reaction at the polls from an overdose of the courthouse partisanship practiced by Harry Truman and his party spoilsmen.

There was a wholesale crossing - over of party lines to vote for Dwight Eisenhower, who never had been identified with partisan politics This was a rebuke to party hacks not only in the no-longer-solid South but also in the nervous North

Eisenhower's choice of Ezra Taft Benson to head the Department of Agriculture gave the proverbial farm - bloc type of politico fair notice that hoodwinking the agricultural minority had gone out of style These are the politicos yammering for Benson's head because he has refused to play their game.

In due time, they may start yammering for Eisenhower's head The President's announcement at his latest press conference that he will not go on the stump in next year's congressional elections held out no comfort to officeholders whose idea of politics is that nearly all of the people can be fooled nearly all of the time by partisan hot air.

Presidential Evolution

By David Lawrence

Civilian Eisenhower Gaining in Stature

President Eisenhower is beginning to handle himself at his press conferences more and more like a veteran. His offhand comments cover an amazing amount of information.

When one considers the variety of subjects that are brought up by the correspondents, it is nothing short of remarkable that the man who spent so much of his life in the Army can now discuss so readily many of the fine points of purely civilian problems.

The President makes a slip now and then in names or places — as everyone does — but his responses to the questions asked by the reporters are always direct and without evasion.

Thus, the press conference this week showed that the President is not only well aware of the farm problem but that he is considerably more frank in his discussion of it than a political person might normally be.

When asked, for example, what impressions he gathered on his western trip as to the attitude of the farmers, Eisenhower might have resorted to the usual political jargon. He confessed frankly that a President traveling around the country doesn't always hear the unfavorable side and that what he did hear gave him a feeling that the problems were not insoluble and that the conscientious approach of the administration was appreciated.

The complexities of agriculture aren't going to be resolved overnight, and the President is hopeful that intensive study by his new commission of agricultural experts will bring out facts a nd reports which will show the farmer that, while the short-range picture may present a squeeze, it's a long-range policy of fundamentally sound economics that has to be sought.

Perhaps the most important manifestation of Eisenhower's evolution in the presidential job came in his forthright statement in answer to a question as to whether he would participate in the congressional election campaigns of next year.

The President said he would not. He declared that he did not intend to make the presidency an agency to be used in partisan elections He added that anybody elected to the highest office in the land has the responsibility of developing an effective program and that, if this is successful, the candidates of his party have a real umbrella under which to operate.

He meant, of course, that a good record by a Republican administration will aid a Republican congressman or senator in getting elected.

The President remarked, he has no intention of getting into partisan struggles in any district or in any state because he feels sure the people of such a district or state would resent it.

How true Eisenhower's words are may be noted from looking back at what happened when President Franklin D. Roosevelt and his successor, Harry Truman, intervened unsuccessfully again and again not only in primary contests between Democrats but also when they issued a lot of letters for individual nominees of the Democratic party asking that the people support them at the polls.

Some were elected and some defeated — the presidential support was rarely conclusive.

Back in the days of the Republican administration of President William Howard Taft, the rule was to refrain from endorsing congressional candidates, but previously President Theodore Roosevelt intervened in vain in his own state —New York—to try to get the late Henry Stimson elected governor on the Republican ticket, and this act of intervention hurt rather than helped.

Perhaps the most conspicuous example, however, of an ill-fated intervention by the White House occurred when President Wilson, in October 1918, publicly asked the country — just before World War I ended — to elect a Democratic congress. Resentment was widespread and both houses went Republican

The spectacle of a president of the United States becoming a political partisan is something that isn't liked by the people, and certainly a president who tries to elect certain representatives and senators of his party opens up an area of resentment that injures his own prestige.

Eisenhower is right — if he makes a bad record, no amount of letter-writing or campaigning will be of help to his party's nominees, whereas if he makes a good record the Republican party will be helped all along the line.

So Eisenhower is going to concentrate on making as good a record as he can and leave partisan politics to his party managers and the candidates themselves.

Shepherd's Plain

By TRUMAN TWILL

In the process of winding up this department's affairs for a vacation lull, a few loose ends are being made tidy

The Twillery sheep, for instance That subject has been dangling since early last summer.

This has been one of the worst pasture years for a long time. But the three dozen sheep which now are symbolic of the ambitions of the weekend farmer who admires them whenever they come into sight have done very well on it

When they had chewed off all the edible grass on the regular pasture, they moved into a marsh, where there was more moisture, and chewed off everything in there. The fence corners are slickened up. The bank of the creek is barbered. Three dozen sheep get pretty hungry.

It hasn't been until the last few days that three dozen pairs of eyes have begun to turn quizzically toward the back door when it slammed within hearing distance Dumb as sheep are, the old timers are bright enough to know that the character who rustles up hay when the going gets tough slams the back door on his way to the sheepfold

It is still too soon to invite Sam the Ram to drop in for a fall visit For commercial sheep - raising, it is desirable to have spring lambs early. But for weekend farmers who find nothing enjoyable in the prospect of lambs born in freezing weather "summer lambs" are just as good.

This was the last year of flock-building. With any luck, next year's lamb crop should carry the flock total over the saturation point This has been set at 60, which may be high. It would have been too high this year, with no rain worth mentioning after the latter part of June.

According to the papers, there is no future for wool in this country unless some b g-domed scientist can figure out a way to convert it into a synthetic fabric which will be almost as good as wool And also according to the papers, the only shepherds who will be able to get rid of lambs for food any more without losing their shepherd p'ants in the process will be big operators out west with favorable deal on government grazing lands

These, however, are theoretical matters to a weekend farmer who raises sheep for scenery and cheap labor for grass mowing

The scenery is forthcoming twice a day, once in the morning when the flock rises from its resting place in the shelter of the sheepfold and goes out to pasture, once in the evening when it follows the leader back home

In between times the sheep arrange themselves in pastoral scenes on hillsides and against the skyline In many respects, they are at their scenic best in the fall, because their fleeces are whiter than they are in the spring and the sheep are in the best physical condition

But each day they lose more grazing time and have less pasture to graze on. In another week until late next March, when again they can follow nature' plan of living inside the cycle of the growth of grass, which in normal years runs from late in March until well into the middle of November.

Small Publishers Render Real Service

By Raymond Moley

Since the last thing a book publisher seeks is to lose touch with public opinion, it would seem that there is ample reason for soul, if not pocketbook, searching by most of the larger, richer, and better-known firms.

Smaller publishers are with rare daring bringing out a number of books which should make us all ponder the validity of our assumptions and decisions in the international field during the past two decades.

Certainly, nothing in publishing was more wretched than the debacle of the book on the Hiss case by the Earl Jowett. It was printed, sent to reviewers, and publication planned. It had been previously published in England and had been roundly panned.

Errors were discovered and brought to the attention of the publisher. Review copies were then recalled in great haste — but enough had been printed by way or criticism to take the edge off the book, and, so far as this writer is aware, the ultimate appearance of a revision made little impression upon a public concerned with a variety of other things. This lamentable performance was by a large publisher.

Another notable publisher, when asked recently about business, said wearily that business was 'rotten." Then he added that the government was buying fewer books.

Perhaps that means that the deadly drug of what amounts to a government subsidy is having its effect. Publishing is in spirit and tradition most inimical to government support or control For support and control are two sides of the same coin.

A situation of weakness is present in the older and bigger elements of the publishing business which is partly because of ineptitude, partly because they have followed a party line too long, and partly because of the subtle poison of government help.

Into this weakened situation a number of smaller publishers have moved with vigor, courage, and independence.

A good example of that is a batch of books recently published on foreign policy.

The most solid of these is "Perpetual War for Perpetual Peace," published by the Caxton Press of Caldwell, Idaho. It is described by its editor, Harry Elmer Barnes, as "a critical survey and appraisal of the development of foreign policy during the Presidency of Franklin D. Roosevelt."

It is a series of sharply critical essays by individuals who, like the editor, Dr. Barnes, cannot be overlooked in any final determination of the wisdom of a course which has cost us so much in blood and resources over the past two decades.

Barnes offers, moreover, a trenchant essay on what he calls the "historical blackout," largely, according to him, because larger publishers were willing to bring out only books favorable to the then current opinion about the war and the responsibility therefor.

More sensational is "Unconditional Hatred," by Captain Russell Grenfell, formerly of the Royal Navy. This is published by Devin-Adair, a company that has shown a consistent policy of bringing out books sharply critical of current policies of government

Captain Grenfell states the theme of his book in these words:

"The evidence regarding the second world war indicates that American and British policy, both separately and in combination, suffered from defects of a major character The greatest military effort in history was based on the belief that the complete defeat and permanent disarmament of Germany would exorcise the evil of war from the world. That belief turned out to be wholly false . . . It is therefore clear that something was badly amiss with the approach to war of the American and British political leaders, and it is my purpose in this book to investigate and determine where they went wrong . . ."

It is clear to me from my own contacts that these books reflect a revision in public opinion.

The publishers who have discovered this change in opinion may or may not profit by their courage but they have performed a service which larger companies have clearly neglected.

Might Talk Less

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y

A critical shortage in men and women to do the simultaneous interpretation during United Nations proceedings has arisen. The organization is finding it difficult to obtain properly trained persons for the job.

Most of those with the required skill and training have come from Europe, where a number still live, but it seems that they do not wish to work for the United Nations.

Apparently they are able to match the United Nations pay (starting at $6,500 and going up to $11,000) by free - lancing at the numerous international talks held in Europe Thus they avoid being tied down to office schedules and duties. Also, there appears to be reticence on the part of some Europeans to face the political - security conditions in the United States.

At present the United Nations employs 58 men and women for the job, two more than the minimum that has to be on hand for full coverage of the General Assembly and its committees. As some of the interpreters are invariably on vacations or home leave, and some occasionally are ill, full coverage is often impossible.

As a possible solution, the secretariat plans to set up a six - month training course for candidates meeting the stiff basic requirements.

The would-be interpreter has to be able to translate from at least two of the official languages (English, French, Spanish, Russian and Chinese) into a third.

Many persons around the multilingual headquarters here are fluent in three or more tongues, but being able to give a running translation that is precise and at the same time transmits subtleties is a rare ability that the new training course will seek to develop.

To find new personnel the secretariat is sending out recordings of actual speeches to United Nations organizations in Europe. There the candidates record their translations. These are listened to and analyzed by the translating staff her, who pick out potential simultaneous interpreters

Americans, even if they qualify, hardly need apply, it is hinted here The interpreters are needed soon, and the United Nations cannot wait for the eight months or more it takes for a security check before they can even begin to be trained

Marion County History Brevities

When Captain George Beckley, as a young man, agreed to clear seven acres of bottom land above King's Mills in exchange for a colt valued at $30, he soon learned he had bargained for some hard work His job was to grub the and chop the same, also all the baiches in diameter, chop all the old logs, all linn trees of all sizes, trim and chop the same, aso all the balance of the logs which were about 14 feet long. Burn the brush and make the land ready for rolling.

Treatments Effective

BUFFALO, Okla. (AP)—Nineteen-year-old Victor Terbush, stricken with polio, got to go home from the hospital a lot sooner because of the ingenuity of his father. Terbush has had to take physical therapy baths each day and doctors advised he remain in the hospital so that the treatment could be continued.

However, his father, F. H Terbush, knew how much his son wanted to come home and inquired about getting bathing equipment such as used by the hospital.

He was told it would cost $400 so the father set about building similar apparatus. With the outlay of 15 cents for material, and the use of the family vacuum cleaner and bathtub, he succeeded in making a bath which is as effective as the regular equipment.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Operation Have-a-Heart

President Dwight D Eisenhower, Washington, D C.

Dear Ike: I am getting up a new organization, the American Association for Preventing Presidents from Knocking Themselves Out. It is the need of the hour There seems no other way to make you tumble to the plain fact that the pace you are being asked to set would kill a horse And I mean the brewery-and plow-horse type. That recent circus-tent birthday barbecue was the last straw. Everybody meant well but it was just one more proof that the last thing people think of is a President's health

The picnics, banquets, dedications, cornerstone layings, exhausting swings-around-the-circle, etc., are going too far for a time in history when the top requirement is to keep a President feeling fresh and fit.

You are a human being, not a pack elephant, a dromedary or an army mule You have had back-breaking responsibilities for the last dozen years

It is time you realized you are President of the U S A in a grave hour, not a college freshman trying out for the track team and the winning vote as the Boy Most Likely To Win the Football Game Unassisted

After those years in Europe you are lucky to have so much energy left. But remember your energy ain't refillable at any pumping station. Few rulers in world history have had greater need for health and vigor in facing tougher headaches.

The job requires that you be in the pink, keen and sharp Ike, you ain't Samson, Hercules, Bernarr MacFadden, the newest Diesel locomotive, the stage manager of an Arthur Godfrey program, or an atom bomb in a three-piece suit

Ever since you entered the White House you have been busier than a Capistrano swallow trying to figure out whether it is coming or going. You have been trying to get some relaxation by golfing and fishing but it came only between airfields, station-stops, barbecues, country fair appearances and outdoor picnics.

Call a halt, Ike! Revolt against the routine expected of Sharkey and Seal and other three-a-day vaudeville slaves. Make your slogan "I regret that I have but one life to give for my country and I am determined not to give it on a revolving floor or escalator'"

Make like you were directing the channel crossing again, giving the orders, and calling the signals. You are famed for a wallop You are letting yourself be cast in an entirely different role, accepting too many suggestions, trying to do too many things at once, running yourself ragged and inviting a complete collapse.

You could do America no greater disservice than to wind up on a hospital cot from giving an imitation of all the horses in the big Ben Hur scene.

After all, you're only human, and how is your doctor?

As ever
Elmer.

P S Those buttons read "I Like Ike" not "I Like Superman Programs," or "Give us Iron Man McGinty Plus Joe Grimm"

"U S Clarifies Stand on Korean Conferences"—headline . . . It has now reached a point where it can almost understand its position itself.

If that Senate Committee wants to find out where the juveniles get such weird ideas it might take a look at the movies "The Big Heat," "Vice Squad" and "The Blowing Wind."

Dressen out; Prudence to Parsimony to Snafu " Walter O'Malley of the Dodgers says Dressen has been a great manager, that the management will give him a big raise to stay, but that to give a contract for more than one year would be a violation of policy. Policy would seem synomonous here with the beanball, the spiked shoe and the practice of kicking the ball out of a fielder's hand.

Nine in County Attend Special School

Class Established for Mentally Retarded Children

BY EVELYN KRISTOFF

Nine "forgotten" Marion County children are going to school now. They are those who cannot attend public school under current state laws, a group of children mentally retarded who have an IQ of 50 or below. Because of this low intelligence quotient they cannot benefit from regular classroom procedures and therefore are excluded from public schools.

Within the last several years, some Ohio cities and counties have started remembering these youngsters by sponsoring special classes aimed at their mental development and learning capacity levels.

THIS YEAR THE Marion County Child Welfare Board took steps to establish such a class for Marion County mentally retarded children. And if the few weeks the class has been held are any indication, the program is slated to fulfill a great need in the community, the board feels.

The nine children who comprise this pilot class in Marion County attend school from 9:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. Monday through Friday in a colorfully-decorated classroom in the Marion County Children's Home south of Marion. A motor pool, forced by the youngsters' parents, enables them to get to the class.

They have as their teacher Mrs. Paul D. Lister of 329 Carner Ave.

GENE WHITE, superintendent of the Children's Home and secretary of the Child Welfare Board, reports that action to form the class was started several months ago by the mother of a mentally retarded child who could not attend public school.

In gathering information about the possibility of the formation of a class for such children, the mother learned that the county Child Welfare Board, or other public children's agency, is responsible for the effective administration of the training program for mentally deficient youth.

So she took her request, along with a sampling of opinions of other parents of mentally retarded children, to the Child Welfare Board who formulated plans for the class after learning there was sufficient demand for the class among the parents.

SPACE FOR A classroom was secured from the Children's Home and the class fast became a spontaneous "Home" project as the older boys of the Home used colorful paint to transform the room into a real classroom to appeal to the prospective students.

Each of the nine youngsters has a different colored desk and chair as an aid in orienting himself to his surroundings. This also helps them learn and remember each other's names more easily, Mrs. Lister pointed out.

Most of the class activities so far have been aimed at fostering a "together" feeling among the children, Mrs. Lister explained, since most of them have held center of attention in their homes.

IT WAS VERY gratifying for Mrs. Lister to find that the youngsters readily fell into a cooperative feeling toward each other and have learned that it cannot always be a case of "me first" but instead are patient in taking their turn for individual help.

"They are good to each other," the teacher remarked as she told about one of the boys who especially is watchful of the needs of one of the younger boys, who in addition to being mentally retarded, is also afflicted with cerebral palsy.

Two others, another boy and a girl, also have cerebral palsy. The girl, because of the palsy, has no control of herself above her waist, and therefore cannot use her hands as others do.

AS A COMPENSATION for this shortcoming, the girl through the years has developed the use of her feet to the extent that she now can do many things with her feet that others can accomplish by using their hands.

At coloring time, for example, the children accept her getting down on the floor to do her coloring with the crayon held between the toes of a foot. Her classmates are as pleased with her accomplishments as if they themselves were doing it, Mrs. Lister reports.

Another thing the children are quick to encourage the girl to do is to put the right colored wooden pegs in the right hole in a game.

Ages of the children vary from 6 to 13 years.

IN THE SERVICE

Sgt. Raymond E. Fout, 21, of Marion is enroute to the United States after serving eight months with the 40th Infantry Division in Korea. A cook in the 143rd Field Artillery Battalion's Service Battery, Fout went overseas last January. He attended Harding and was employed by the Ohio Market here before entering the service on Nov. 27, 1951. Sgt. Fout received his basic training at Camp Polk, La. His wife, the former Miss Ann Abrams, resides at 346 E. Church St. His aunt, Mrs. Minnie Fout, by whom he was reared, resides near Marion on N. State St.

Robert Hangholt, son of William Hangholt of Kenton, recently was promoted to corporal while serving with X Corps in Korea. Stock record clerk with the 515th Ordnance Company, Cpl. Hangholt entered the Army last August and took his basic training at Aberdeen Proving Grounds, Md. Since arriving in Korea last February, he has been awarded the UN and Korean Service Ribbons. The X Corps, one of three in Korea, provides tactical strategy, administrative services and specialized support for the combat divisions under its control.

$250,000 Suit Filed by Pike Bondholder

COLUMBUS (AP)—Jacob Lichter of Cincinnati, today filed suit for return of more than $250,000 he charged was paid illegally for research work in connection with construction of the Northern Ohio Turnpike.

He also asked for the forfeiture of the turnpike commissioner's surety bond to the state

The suit, filed in Common Pleas Court here, was directed at the Land Title Guarantee Trust Co. of Cleveland for return of more than $250,000 for research work.

Lichter, a holder of turnpike revenue bonds charged that the money was paid after a Franklin County Common Pleas Court last May 19 held the contract with Land Title was illegal.

Paul W. Steer, one of Lichter's attorneys, said the primary purpose of the suit was for the refund of the money. In a statement he said

'As a bond holder, Mr. Lichter asked on behalf of all turnpike bond holders that Land Title return this illegally received public money to the trustees for the turnpike bond holders

"Mr Lichter declares that during the period when this $250,000 was paid to Land Title Guarantee and Trust Co., the title company was well aware of the alleged illegality of their contract, which illegally was confirmed by last May's decision of the Franklin County Common Pleas Court

"The suit further states that the turnpike commissioners certified to the trustees for the bond holders that no claim affecting the title company's rights to receive this money existed

"Since the commissioners were well aware of the pending claim that the contract with the title company was illegal, this was an erroneous certification and Mr Lichter therefore asks for the forfeiture of the commissioner's surety bonds to the State of Ohio, which bonds were conditioned upon their faithful performance of their official duties."

The suit asked the following bonds be refunded to the state: James W. Shocknessy, commission chairman, $25,000; O. L. Teagarden $25,000; A J. Allen, secretary-treasurer, $50,000 and J. Gordon McKay $25 000 It also asked forfeit of the $10,000 bond on Theodore J. Kauer, commission chief engineer, and $10,000 on highway director Samuel O. Linzell.

Educator Blames Reading Difficulty On Mental Stress

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "When a pupil has trouble learning to read," an educator says, "chances are it's because he's literally a crazy, mixed up kid."

Dr. Guy L. Bond, professor of education at the University of Minnesota, told an interviewer yesterday:

"Poor readers frequently are disturbed emotionally. They have psychological blocks to overcome.

"Mothers and fathers are often to blame. They get overanxious and expect too much of a child, thus placing him under unreasonable pressure"

Ike Has No Complaint On Treatment by Press

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower thinks he is getting fair and impartial treatment from the nation's reporters, White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said Wednesday.

"By and large, the press of this country gives us very fair treatment," Hagerty told an MBS radio audience "That's their job, and they usually do a good one."

JUDGE RAISES DOUBT

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Franklin County Common Pleas Judge Dana F Reynolds says there is a "serious question" as to the right of police to arrest a woman for being drunk in her own home He made the observation yesterday in reversing the Municipal Court conviction of Mrs. Cliner Martin for lack of evidence. He said the woman "was in her own house, about her household duties, minding her own business" when officers, searching for someone else, arrested her.

City's Administrators To Be Chosen at Polls Nov. 3

Three Republicans Seek Re-election; Democrats Contest 2 Posts

City office holders who will administer Marion's affairs for the next two years will be determined by the electorate at the polls Nov 3

The three administration posts to be filled are those of mayor, city solicitor and treasurer.

Only two of the three are contested City Solicitor George A. Piacentino, Republican, has no Democratic opponent.

Seeking election to the top post are Harold F. Robinson, Republican incumbent, and George W Moore, his Democratic opponent

Like Robinson, City Treasurer Harry D Cahill, Republican, is seeking re-election. He will be opposed by Mrs Barbara Bingham Norris, Democrat

Following are brief sketches of the candidates for administrative posts

HAROLD F. ROBINSON (R)
Candidate for Mayor

GEORGE A. PIACENTINO (R)
Candidate for Solicitor

HARRY D. CAHILL (R)
Candidate for Treasurer

ROBINSON is seeking his third consecutive term as mayor. A veteran of local politics, he was a city councilman for eight years, served for two years in the Marion County Republican Executive Committee, and has been a member of the County Republican Central Committee for 15 years

An electrical contractor by profession, Robinson attended public schools in Columbus and studied electrical engineering from the International Correspondence School and at the Lincoln Engineering School. He also studied industrial management at LaSalle University, Chicago, Ill

A native of Columbus where he was born on Jan 12, 1904, Mayor Robinson has lived in Marion for some 40 years. He makes his home at 241 N. Greenwood St

Robinson is the father of two married sons, two daughters at home and a son serving with the Air Force.

MOORE FORMERLY operated Moore and Son, a tinning, roofing and spouting firm, and is now engaged in the grocery business with his wife, the former Miss Helen Ruick of Marion He has been employed by the Osgood Co, the Fairfield Engineering Co and the Erie Railroad

He was born on Oct. 11, 1892, in Claibourne Township in Union County and attended Richwood public schools A resident of Marion for the past 39 years, Moore lives at 702 Girard Ave.

He is the father of two married daughters, two married sons one son at home and one son now serving with the Navy.

CAHILL has served as treasurer since he was first elected in 1941 after six terms as a councilman-at-large He is currently stores record clerk at the Ohio Edison Co

Born in Union County on June 10, 1890, he attended public schools in Wood County and moved to Marion 43 years ago.

Cahill's wife is the former Miss Pearl Clapsaddle of Marion and they have one daughter at home, 128 W. Fairground St., one married daughter and four grandchildren.

MRS. BARBARA B. NORRIS (D)
Candidate for Treasurer

GEORGE W. MOORE (D)
Candidate for Mayor

MRS. NORRIS, a homemaker by profession, served one term as councilman-at-large.

She is active as a Girl Scout leader and is a member of the League of Women Voters, the Marion County Democratic Club, the Democratic Women's Club and the Business and Professional Women's Club.

Mrs Norris was born in Marion on Oct 8, 1910, and attended St. Mary High School and the Marion Business College

The widow of the late John H. Norris, she is the mother of six children, ranging in age from 4 to 11 years old. Mrs. Norris resides at 417 Mary St.

PIACENTINO, an attorney, served as assistant city solicitor from 1948 to 1951 He is legal adviser to the Second Area, Ohio Defense Corps, and past chairman of the Citizenship Committee of the Marion County Bar Association.

He received the degree bachelor of science in business administration from Boston University in 1944 and his bachelor of law degree from Ohio State University in 1946.

A native of Marion, Piacentino was born here Sept 13, 1922. He now lives at 226 Summit St and has three children of pre-school age.

Piacentino is a member of the Chamber of Commerce and the Marion and Ohio State Bar Associations.

Actress' Husband Will Fight Divorce

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Actress Susan Hayward's husband, Jess Barker, will contest her divorce suit by petitioning for a hearing in the Children's Reconciliation Court The couple has twin sons, aged 8

S S Hahn, representing Barker, said he would ask today that a date be set for the hearing.

"In my extensive interview with Barker on the circumstances of the separation almost a year ago, I have found nothing that would preclude a reconciliation," said Hahn. "The most important issue is the children. They need both parents."

Hahn said that his petition for a hearing in the children's court, once granted, would delay the divorce action for at least two months.

Royal Auto Balks, Queen, Duke Ride Home With Guard

LONDON (AP)—A royal limousine conked out in busy Leicester Square Wednesday with Queen Elizabeth I and her husband, the Duke of Edinburgh, inside

They were about to return to Buckingham Palace after attending the premiere of a film of last summer's successful Mt. Everest expedition

The starter whirred but nothing happened.

The crowd let out a good-natured cheer.

The chauffeur looked harassed.

Finally the Duke opened the door, helped the Queen out and the laughing couple entered the car of an aide for the drive to the palace.

Two strong-armed bobbies pushed the big royal car a few yards down the street and it started readily.

The chauffeur drove off amid cheers.

Trial Must Go On So Judge Employs Nurse

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Mrs. Violet Leduc, a juror in a civil suit, phoned the judge Wednesday that she would have to care for her 2-year-old grandson the next two weeks because her daughter-in-law was about to have another baby.

Judge George A. Dockweiler recessed the trial and went into a huddle with the lawyers.

Then he phoned Mrs. Leduc and told her, "We hired a nurse. Trial will resume Monday."

Columbus Judge Anticipates New Drunk Driver Law

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Traffic Court Judge Rodney Ross Wednesday sentenced to jail four motorists convicted of driving while intoxicated — even though they were "too early" for the Columbus city ordinance on drunk driving.

The Columbus ordinance goes into effect Oct 29. Judge Ross said. "Technically, I could wait until the ordinance becomes effective before imposing jail sentences unless the affidavits were brought under the state statute."

Ross said he was following the new state statute, which provides a mandatory tree-day minimum jail sentence for motorists convicted of driving while intoxicated. The state law went into effect yesterday

School Day Cooking Helps Are Tasty

To Treat the Kids, Serve Prunes in Salad and Quick Bread

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

School-day cooking help is what we aim to give you today. All centered on that low in cost, high in flavor dried fruit—prunes.

The kids coming home for lunch? Then serve them a hearty split pea soup — homemade or canned — and a stuffed prune salad. Even youngsters who turn up their noses at prunes served ordinary fashion, usually like them dressed up with a cream-style cottage cheese filling, arranged on crisp greens. For further allure, open the pitted prunes flat, mound lots of the cottage cheese into them, and make a tic-tac-toe design on each. You can achieve this garnish with strips of green pepper or pimiento and capers. Fun food! Mayonnaise tastes good with this salad, and so does buttered whole wheat toast.

The kids taking lunch to school? Then sometimes send along a sandwich filling made by chopping drained cooked prunes and mixing with chopped cold boiled ham and a little mayonnaise. The chopped prunes also give moisture and a pleasant sweet taste to a peanut butter and bacon sandwich filling.

PRUNE AND FILBERT QUICK LOAF . . . after-school snack for hungry kids.

For after-school snacks, bake a quick-bread loaf streaked with sweet prunes and chopped filberts. The kids will love slices of it with mugs of milk or cocoa. The loaf cuts beautifully if it is left overnight in a tightly covered container. For further storage, wrap it tightly in waxed paper or aluminum foil and keep it in the refrigerator.

An advantage of this prune filbert loaf is the thrifty nonfat dry milk used in its making. Just sift the dry milk powder with the other dry ingredients. Or if you already have some of the nonfat dry milk powder liquified and refrigerated, we give you directions for using that.

When we cooked the prunes to use in this prune filbert loaf, we used a pound of the packaged fruit. We put the prunes (without soaking and without sugar), into a quart saucepan and added two cups of water, then we brought them to a boil, lowered the heat and simmered them until tender. There were, of course, plenty of prunes for the quick bread and enough left for a salad and a sandwich filling. The juice from the drained prunes may be combined with milk to make a delicious and nutritious drink for your youngsters.

PRUNE FILBERT LOAF

Ingredients: 3 cups sifted flour, 4 teaspoons baking powder, 1½ teaspoons salt, ½ cup sugar, 4½ tablespoons nonfat dry milk powder, 1 egg, 1½ cups water, ¼ cup butter or margarine (melted), ¾ cup cooked drained chopped prunes, ½ cup chopped filbert nutmeats.

Method: Sift together flour, baking powder, salt, sugar and nonfat dry milk powder. Beat egg lightly; add water and beat enough to combine. Add melted butter and dry ingredients. Stir only until dry ingredients are moistened. Lightly fold in prunes and filberts. Turn into greased loaf pan (about 9 by 5 by 3 inches). Bake in moderate (350 F) oven 50 minutes or until golden-brown, firm to the touch, and a cake tester inserted in the center comes out clean. Store overnight in tightly covered tin container before slicing.

Note: 1½ cups liquified nonfat dry milk may be used instead of the 4½ tablespoons nonfat dry milk powder and 1½ cups water. In this case, sift together the flour, baking powder, salt and sugar. Beat the egg with the 1½ liquified nonfat dry milk and proceed by adding the shortening, dry ingredients, prunes and nutmeats as directed in the recipe.

Ohio Chamber Elects Officers

C. I. Weaver, Slate Of 12 Are Renamed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—One of the nation's leading figures in the utilities field says a lot of work remains to be done before commercial power from atomic energy can be a reality.

Philip Sporn, president of the American Gas and Electric Corp told the Ohio Chamber of Commerce convention yesterday commercial use of atomic power definitely "is not just around the corner."

He said because of Ohio's position in the heart of "America's principal coal preserve," widespread use of atomic power would come later to Ohio than to other parts of the country.

Sporn's speech wound up a day of business and discussion. The convention elected 21 new directors to its board. The board then reelected its entire slate of 12 officers.

C. I. Weaver of Springfield, was re-elected to his eighth term as president.

Others named were vice presidents: Edwin H. Davis, Columbus; Walter H. Sammis, Akron; C. L. Van Derau, Mansfield and H. D. McClelland, Cambridge.

Vice presidents representing districts: R. L. Ireland, Cleveland; Lee D. Breckel, Steubenville; F. O. Schoedinger, Columbus, Calvin Verity, Middletown, and F. Cyril Greenhill, Toledo.

Treasurer is Robert W. Laylin, Columbus. Herschel C. Atkinson was renamed executive vice president.

Says Ike Good Guest

GILMER, Tex. (AP) — President Eisenhower was not a troublesome guest, Gov. Allan Shivers has indicated.

"The only request the President made of me," Shivers told the East Texas Jamboree yesterday, "was to be permitted to attend church on Sunday."

The President was a house guest of Shivers at the latter's estate near Mission, Tex., last Saturday and Sunday.

A juke box filled with religious records has been installed in the choir loft of St. John's Lutheran Church in Harrison, N. J.

Comedian Jack Benny's Sister-in-Law Fined $75

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP)—A $75 fine was assessed yesterday against comedian Jack Benny's sister-in-law after she pleaded guilty to a charge of disturbing the peace.

Mrs. Babe Blum, 48, and two men, arrested Sept. 27, were charged with trying to force their way into a friend's apartment. Her two companions pleaded guilty previously and were fined.

Reduction Plan For U.S. Troops Alarms France

Speculation Arises On Withdrawal After Wilson's Press Talks

WASHINGTON --Growing talk here about the possibility of reducing U. S. ground forces in Europe has evidently disturbed the French government at a time when it is hoping for early parliamentary approval of the European Defense Community.

Retention of the six American divisions now in Europe for a long time is regarded by the French as a major requirement for their approval of EDC.

Want U. S. Troops

They view the U. S. divisions not only as a safeguard against Soviet attack but also as affording protection, along with British troops, against possible revival of threatening German military power.

Under the European Defense Community Treaty, West German forces would be armed up to a strength of at least 12 divisions as part of the North Atlantic Alliance defense. They would compose units in an EDC army which would also include troops from France, Italy, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg.

The outlook for French approval of EDC had recently become bright again after lots of uncertainty. Now a possible threat to ratification prospects in France is seen in these developments:

No More Men

1. An unofficial disclosure from Paris, subsequently confirmed here, that the United States has dropped a tentative proposal to send an additional armored division to join its North Atlantic Treaty forces next year.

2 Secretary of Defense Wilson's news conference remark that development of new weapons would make it possible in the long run to cut down on American ground forces in Europe.

Since these two incidents, there has been speculation concerning a review of military strategy by the Joint Chiefs of Staff looking toward reduction in American forces now widely committed around the globe.

Some authorities here are reported to feel that incorrect implications were read into Wilson's statement abroad. Their belief is that he was not necessarily talking about cutting down American fighting power at some future date, but was rather suggesting that new weapons, notably in the atomic field, might enable fewer men to do a better job in the Western European defense system.

Galion Homestead, Pioneer Landmark, Gets New Owners

Special to The Star

GALION — The old Hosford homestead, a landmark in Crawford County, built 106 years ago, comes into the news again this week with announcement that it has new owners.

Built before the Civil War by one of Galion's early settlers, Asa Hosford, the house is located picturesquely on the Hosford Road, southwest of Galion. At one time it was sketched by a home-town artist, Victor C. Sloane.

Down through the years, the house has had many different owners. It recently was purchased by Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Roberts of Galion, who will move into it soon with their small daughter They bought the home from the James M. Blackhall family who have purchased a home in La Grange, Ill.

Some time ago, Mr. Sloane, an architectural archeologist, pointed out that the old Hosford house has the distinction of being one of the finest examples of Greek Revival architecture to be found in this section of the state. The house, however, has none of the ornamental pilasters and colonades typical of that period, but it has brickwork that is unexcelled, and of a type no longer used. Some of its features, are splendid classic cornice, sturdy walnut framing, and powerful massing and proportions.

There is no question about the age of the house as Asa Hosford carved the date of its erection (1847) under his name on the stone lintel over the front door.

Historians have it that Asa Hosford was Galion's first settler, locating at the corner of the S. State Road and Harding Way West. When he moved southwest of Galion and built his home, he operated a grist mill out there. Foundations of the vanished grist mill, the mill race, the ruined dam, and "Hosford's Lake" have attracted the attention of Galion people for many years. Many have suggested that the old house be purchased by some local organization, and made an historic museum besides preserving the house for its architectural and historic value.

1. To improve the chance of getting congressional approval of a sizable foreign military aid program at the session beginning next January. By the same token, of course, the plan might arouse opposition among lawmakers opposing foreign aid.

2. To help win acceptance in Congress and throughout the country of present high-level thinking that U. S. defenses are interlocked now and will be for a long time with those of Western Europe. The theory here is that dollars spent for defense purposes abroad are as well invested as dollars spent on America's own forces.

Findlay College Class Elects Ruggles President

Stanford Ruggles, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Ruggles of 825 Uncapher Ave., has been elected by members of the freshman class at Findlay College as class president

Ruggles is studying for the ministry at the college, and presently is pastor of two Evangelical United Brethren churches in Findlay. He is a 1953 graduate of Harding High School.

Cucumber 2 Feet Long

A cucumber in the yard of the residence at 322 Uncapher Ave. has grown to a length of over 24 inches. It can be seen from the street, hanging from a vine which is twined around a peach tree.

The cucumber is the only one on the vine which grew to any length. A small one is also on the vine but the rest of the blossoms on the vine died.

MARION MAN FINED $50

Nick Ristick, 38, of 179 N Main St. was fined $50 and costs by Municipal Court Judge W. Dexter Hazen Thursday. Ristick had been arrested Thursday morning and charged with disposing of garbage on his own property in violation of the city code.

Rev. Hollensen Elected Head Of Kiwanians

E. L. Mitchell Named First Vice President At Luncheon Meeting

Officers for the new year, headed by Rev. M. E. Hollensen as president, were elected when the Kiwanis Club met for its weekly luncheon meeting Thursday at Hotel Harding.

Highlighting the day's program was the annual "razzing" of the retiring club president, Lester L. Dickey. The fun session was a take-off on the "This Is Your Life" program.

Named to serve with Rev. Hollensen were Edwin L. Mitchell, first vice president; W. Leonard Young, second vice president; E. Paul Bachman, treasurer; and Carl R. Campbell, Robert W. Fay and Robert F. Williams, members of the board of directors for three years.

The secretary will be appointed by the board. The new officers will take over the first of January.

Rev. Hollensen, pastor of Emanuel Lutheran Church, has been a Kiwanian about five and one-half years. Previous to being elected president, he held the offices of both second and first vice presidents. He and Mrs. Hollensen reside at 243 S. Prospect St. and have two daughter, Dorothy, a junior at Capital University, Columbus, and Carol, a sophomore at Harding High School.

Guests of the club included Ernest W. Pavey of New York, father-in-law of Mr. Dickey, Hyman Shapiro, Paul Shelton, R. T. Lewis of Marion, Judge LeRoy Allen of Marysville, Judge W. T. Owen of Urbana, H. P. Lewis of Columbus, and Ralph Riddlebarger of Portsmouth.

School Religious Instructors Speak To Church Women

Outline of Week-Day Religious Education in the Marion public schools was presented to the Marion County Council of Church Women Wednesday by Mrs. Thelma Wilcox, director of the classes. The meeting was held at the Prospect Street Methodist Church with women of that church as hostesses. Miss Garnet Laird and Miss Evelyn Greenamyer, teachers serving with the director, were introduced.

Mrs. Wilcox told of the religious instruction in the third, fourth and fifth grades of the school system. She set forth three aims of the teachers, to help the children acquire information about the Bible, Bible stories, and other phases of Bible knowledge; to help them live in the right way, "know what is right, then choose to do that"; and to help each child "grow" his own faith. She pointed out that "a child needs faith in God and faith in himself."

Mrs. Clifford Bartlett, chairman for the Week-Day Religious Education interest of the council, arranged the program. An offering of $25 was received for the project. Announcement was made that World Community Day observance will be sponsored by the council Nov. 6 at Trinity Baptist Church.

Women of the Prospect Street Church conducted the devotional period. Mrs. John Dietsch led devotions, Mrs. Carroll Schmidt sang, accompanied by Mrs. J. W. Baker of Calvary EUB Church. Mrs. Elmer Dean and Mrs. Cloyce Musgrave were hospitality committee, and Mrs. Bertha Kerr and Mrs. Otto Long were ushers

6-Year-Old Crestline Child Is Polio Victim

Special to The Star

CRESTLINE — The first case of polio to be reported in Crawford County in several weeks has been diagnosed here. The patient is six-year-old Donald Rowland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Smith.

He was admitted to Children's Hospital at Columbus Wednesday after he became ill Tuesday morning. He is reported to be slightly paralyzed in the lower left leg.

Both the parents and their four other children, will receive gamma globulin innoculations, according to the local physician.

Fifty-two per cent of Michigan's 36.5 million acres of land, or 19 million acres, is classified as forestland.

Dr. Zaugg To Talk At Annual Upper School Open House

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY — Dr. Walter A. Zaugg, of Bowling Green State University, will be the guest speaker for the annual open house at Upper Sandusky High School Tuesday.

The program will open at 7:30 p.m. with the first hour given to a tour of the building, the viewing of class room exhibits and demonstrations and student art work in the halls. The second hour of the program will be in the auditorium with selections by the high school choir, directed by Ralph Faulk. A one-act play, "Parking For One," will be presented by Tri-Masque, high school dramatic club, under the direction of Donald Olin.

A short discussion of a proposed two-mill school district tax levy will be by Miller Bowen, of Upper Sandusky, president of the Board of Education and the concluding talk on "Education" will be by Dr. Zaugg.

An open house for the newly remodeled elementary school in the East Building will be held from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. on Sunday, Oct. 25.

an assistant to Benson, and some of Eisenhower's aides.

Both the President and Benson have said they will have definite recommendations on farm policy to submit to Congress when it returns in January.

Mundt's Views

Mundt, a member of the Senate Agriculture Committee, said in an interview he was confident Congress would not approve any change in the law that would weaken present price supports or reduce the income of the farmer.

"It's my belief that Congress will approve an extension of the present price suport program and perhaps include other storable crops not now on the mandatory (support) list," he said, "unless the Agriculture Department comes up with a plan that would give farmers a better income."

Similarly, Payne said he does not expect cutbacks in the present program requiring that prices of six basic crops—wheat, tobacco, oats, rice, peanuts and corn—be supported through government loans to farmers at 90 per cent of parity.

Parity is a calculated price said by law to give farmers a fair return on their products in relation to the cost of the things they have to buy.

High Level Talks

Payne said he knew the possibility of placing more storable commodities on the mandatory price support list is under discussion at "high levels."

Sen. Stennis, (D-Miss) also said he believes Congress will extend the present farm support law, now due to expire at the end of 1954. "You can't just cut agriculture loose and let it sink or swim," he said.

Sen. Kerr (D-Okla), who has been one of Secretary Benson's most persistent critics, said in a speech at Paducah, Tex., last night the administration should get a new agriculture secretary. If it doesn't, he added, "the people should have—and will get—a new administration."

Indian Theme Featured At Galion DAR Session

Special to The Star

GALION — An Indian breakfast meeting of Olentangy Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, was held Wednesday at Hotel Talbott. For the program which followed, Miss Ramona Kaiser of the Cincinnati Daughters of the American Revolution, state chairman of the American Indian, was guest speaker.

An Indian theme was carried out in table decorations which were planned by Mrs. Ralph Stevens, and covers were laid for 32 women. The hostesses were Mrs. L. A. Cline and Mrs. J. C. Shumaker.

Mrs. Kaiser appeared in costume of the American Indian for her talk. She emphasized the fact that the welfare of the American Indian is third on the list of important issues of the DAR, and that national defense and approved schools head the list of activities.

WALDO CLUB TO MEET

Waldo Homemakers Club will open the club season with a meeting on Monday, Oct. 26, at 8 p.m. at the Waldo School cafeteria. All girls, and women in the Waldo area have been invited to attend. Miss Marie Bender is president and the program will feature textile painting by Mrs. Dan McClaskey of Pleasant.

SPEAKING CONTEST SET

Three contestants will participate in the annual Prince of Peace contest scheduled to be held at Green Camp High School this year on Sunday night, Nov. 15. Contestants will be Myrna Long, Kitty Kempton and Becky Converse. Richard L. Granlee, speech instructor in the high school, will have charge of the program. The contest will begin at 8 p.m. The public is invited to attend.

PLANS ATOMIC PLANT. Thomas Murray, member of the Atomic Energy Commission, announces plans for the construction of a huge atom-fueled power plant which will be in operation in three or four years. He called the plant America's answer to the Soviet hydrogen bomb.

Marion Men Aid In Suspect's Arrest

Alertness on the part of a Marion merchant and Marion police helped in the apprehension of a man wanted by Union County authorities on a warrant charging him with passing bad checks.

The man, C. H. Anglebech, was arrested in Union County this morning, police Chief Tom Coon reported. He had been seen in Marion by Harry Crawbaugh of the Crawbaugh Hardware Store. Anglebech had made a five dollar deposit at the store on five guns valued at $500. He then told Crawbaugh he would cash some checks and return to make the payments on the guns. Crawbaugh became suspicious, noted the license number of the car the man was driving, and, when he failed to return, called police.

Police here checked the license number with Union County authorities who reported the warrant had been issued. Marion authorities working with the Union County men kept up a search for Anglebech, who was apprehended this morning.

Bird-McGinnis Post Drum Corps Holds Its Annual Banquet

The second annual banquet of the Bird-McGinnis Post Drum and Bugle Corps was held Wednesday at Hotel Harding with 60 members and their wives in attendance.

Presiding as toastmaster for the banquet, which this year was dedicated to wives of the members, was Wayne Willis. Talks were given by Fred Thacker, Sixth District commander and commander of the post when the drum corps was organized; Dr. George Pfleiderer, immediate past commander of Bird-McGinnis Post No. 162, American Legion; Dr. Gerald Strauss, commander of the post and historian of the corps; and Howard Sines, president of the corps.

Thacker recalled the organization of the corps, which he said was the highlight of his administration, and the trials encountered in getting the corps started "on a shoestring."

Dr. Pfleiderer spoke of the importance of the corps as a part of the American Legion and what it means to the community and Dr. Strauss recalled some of the humorous incidents in the early days of the organization. Sines discussed the goal for the year, which includes the state championship. It is the intention of the corps to participate in every contest in 1954, he stated.

The drum corps has adopted the name The Cavaliers. The corps meets every Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the rooms over the old Marion National Bank for winter practice. Legionnaires or others interested may attend the practice meetings.

Erie Railroad Reports On Nine-Month Income

CLEVELAND (AP) — Erie Railroad net income for the first nine months of 1953 was $9,367,876 or $3.21 per share of common stock before capital and sinking funds, Paul W. Johnston, president, announced today. In the same period last year, it was $8,207,267 or $2.73 per share.

September net income was $793,664 or 26 cents a share as against $1,363,479 or 49 cents a share the same month a year year ago.

Erie's carloadings for the first 15 days of October were running 8.4 per cent ahead of last month and 6.4 per cent behind last year.

ESTIMATES VOTE

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Two and a quarter million Ohioans will vote at the elections Nov. 3, according to an estimate made yesterday by Secretary of State Ted Brown. The figure is considerably higher than the figure registered for comparable elections in Nov 1951, but is far short of the 3,749,828 who voted in last year's presidential election.

Streams Lowest in 35 Years

Drought Intensifies Ohio Water Pollution Problem

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—You can blame the drought for much of the "big stink" over Ohio.

That's because the long dry spell has intensified the state's water pollution problems that already were serious, says Dr. John D. Porterfield, state health director and head of the state water pollution control board.

The situation is so bad even communities and industries which have sewage treatment facilities adequate for normal weather have problems now.

A stream can rid itself of normal impurities just by flowing along. How long this takes depends on how fast the stream flows, how much the water is churned by waterfalls, letting it pick up more oxygen, and the amount of water in the stream.

But these aren't normal times. The rate of stream flow is the lowest it has been for 35 years. Some streams have dried up and just don't exist, others aren't deep enough to float toy boats

Also, the abnormally high temperatures this month have removed oxygen from the streams. The net result: Less water is at work, increasing the concentration of pollution, and there is less oxygen with which to work, slowing down the natural purifying process.

That's why at some points in Ohio you can tell when you're within two or three miles of a river by the stench.

Dr. Porterfield's aids says there even have been cases of the odors discoloring paint on houses.

The stench is statewide and brings complaints from residents living downstream from cities and industries dumping inadequately treated sewage and industrial wastes into rivers.

Dr. Porterfield's aids cite as examples citizens on the Scioto south of Columbus, cities along the Cuyahoga downstream from Akron, and communities along the Tuscarawas downstream from Barberton.

Columbus, Akron and Barberton are under orders to provide adequate treatment and are in the process of doing so.

"These are only examples," Dr. Porterfield says. "It's the same situation around practically any large city, or smaller one, for that matter, that dumps wastes into streams now. The problem is everywhere, due to the drought and high temperatures."

expression before. But I understood later when he said something about wishing me godspeed."

Can't Understand

La Rosa said another thing he doesn't understand is what Godfrey means by "humility," the quality Godfrey said La Rosa had lost.

"Ever since I was on his show, it was one of his staunch themes," La Rosa said. "He never said exactly what it was. It was sort of an indefinable something."

But La Rosa emphasized he does not want to get into a battle with Godfrey, for whom he had worked 23 months to the day until sacked along with orchestra leader Archie Bleyer.

Nor, La Rosa said, does he see what all the shooting already is about.

"I wouldn't be disrespectful to him," he said. "He's older than I am and my father always taught me to have respect for people older than you.

"I didn't want any publicity because I felt it wasn't the right thing. Children should be seen and not heard and two wrongs don't make a right."

The 23-year-old baritone sings at a Naval Relief Society ball tonight at the naval gun factory. He was stationed there as a sailor for two years before Godfrey "discovered" him.

'No Bona Fide Reason'

La Rosa said that "deep down in my heart I know that Mr. Godfrey had no bona fide reason for firing me."

But he acknowledged he had violated an agreement with Godfrey under which all the "Little Godfreys" said they would hire no independent booking agency to represent them.

The singer sidestepped questions about why he had contracted with the agency, General Artists Corp., but said he signed up four days before Godfrey gave him the ax.

"I tried to tell Mr. Godfrey about it, but I couldn't reach him," La Rosa said.

Godfrey told a news conference in New York Wednesday he fired La Rosa for signing the personal management contract. He fired Bleyer, he said, because Bleyer made a phonograph record featuring Don McNeill of the rival American Broadcasting Co

La Rosa's contract with the Columbia Broadcasting System still has five years to run and poses an ironclad hurdle to his cashing in on big money offers.

General Artists President Tom Rockwell said he hopes to negotiate changes in the contract, which CBS officials described as customary for new talent, yielding La Rosa an average of about $1,000 a week with Godfrey.

"CBS is a fair organization," Rockwell said. "I'm sure we'll work something out"

In the meantime, he said, he is holding in abeyance such offers as $7,500 a week for La Rosa to appear at theaters in New York and Chicago and $4,000 for a one-night stand in Kalamazoo, Mich.

CBS said it plans to use La Rosa in other radio-TV appearances but was not sure just exactly where and when. His next scheduled TV performance will be on Ed Sullivan's "Toast of the Town" Sunday night.

Delaware Hospital Receives $11,000

Special to The Star

DELAWARE — Jane M. Case Hospital here has received $1,000 from the estate of Miss Blanche Rosenthal, who willed the bulk of her property to the hospital in recognition of past consideration shown her by the board of trustees.

Presentation of the gift was made at Wednesday night's board meeting by the Rosenthal estate executor, F. M. Marriott, and ex-president of the hospital board.

Harold Burrell, president of the board of trustees, said that plans have been studied during the past few months to expand the hospital facilities to take care of the present load adequately and perhaps to increase the number of hospital beds.

Mrs. Ada Mitchell, superintendent, reported that the hospital had an average daily total of 40.1 patients during September, a low average.

Ashley Water Haul On 18-Hour Basis

Special to The Star

ASHLEY — "Operation Water Haul" has been reduced from a 24-hour-a-day schedule, started here Oct. 13 when Ashley's water supply reached an all-time low, to an 18-hour basis.

Volunteer workers are keeping the Ashley residents supplied with water by filling tank trucks at the Delaware reservoir to a total of 3,800 gallons per hour. The water is being brought to the Ashley water treatment plant in three 1,000 gallon and one 800-gallon truck. The two 1,000-gallon trucks are on loan from the Marion Engineer Depot and the other belongs to the Ashley fire department.

Some 20 workers are on duty with each man driving from a four to eight-hour shift.

Water Commissioner Charles McBeth said a plan is now under consideration by the village council to construct a reservoir to guard against repetition of the present water famine. Plans are being discussed with a Marion contractor.

Ashley has had no reserve water supply. Water is drawn from three shallow wells.

New Trial Ordered In $75,000 Action At Bucyrus Court

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS — A new trial has been ordered by the Ohio Supreme Court of the $75,000 action for money in which a Crawford County Common Pleas Court held here that Hermine and Alvin Hartshuh, of near Bloomville, were not liable for damages growing out of an automobile collision with James D. Holt, Columbus. The accident occurred in June, 1946, near Chatfield.

The Supreme Court refused to disturb a court of appeals decision, which ordered a new trial. Holt asked for a new trial on the grounds some of the medical testimony was improperly introduced. The county court's decision was reversed by the appellate court last November on the grounds that the court erred in not ruling out testimony given by a physician.

The case is expected to be remanded here for a new trial.

$5,000 Damage Suit Filed in Marion Court

A 12-year-old Martel boy through his father, filed a $5,000 damage suit Thursday in the Marion County Common Pleas Court against a 20-year-old youth living near Martel.

Filing the suit was Delmar Smith, a minor, by Edward Smith, his father, against Raymond Bilger Jr., a minor.

The petition alleges Delmar was injured when riding in an automobile driven by the Bilger youth April 26 The petition alleges the defendant was racing the automobile and lost control of the car which crashed into a tree about a mile north of the Marion-Crawford County line. As a result of the crash, several of Delmar's teeth were broken and some had to be removed, the petition alleges.

These Days

By George Sokolsky

When the whole story of the Monmouth spy ring is disclosed, a case not dissimilar to the Rosenberg spy apparatus activities for the theft of the atom bomb will be disclosed. And again, it will be shown that the center of the apparatus was Julius Rosenberg, who seems to have been more active than the evidence in his trial disclosed.

SOKOLSKY

Thus far, no evidence has been adduced as to who was Rosenberg's boss, which is important as he may still be on the job. The general pattern of such an apparatus as Rosenberg managed calls for a Russian as the directing head.

The staff of the McCarthy Committee stumbled on the Monmouth case in the course of probing for spies in military establishments. At first, the data seemed unbelievable because phases of it were long known to other agencies and ignored.

WHEN THE investigation is completed, this is likely to be the story

While Julius Rosenberg was recruiting a spy ring in Los Alamos, he was also recruiting a spy ring at Fort Monmouth.

Actually, Rosenberg worked at Fort Monmouth. It will be shown that Rosenberg succeeded in recruiting clever young engineers, mainly graduates of the College of the City of New York.

It will probably not be shown that all these persons were Communists, and this is important to note because not all spies have been Communist party members.

It will be shown that some of the radar material went to Soviet Russia as part of the war service, possibly under lend-lease.

Some of it was taken after lend-lease ceased and after the "cold war" started.

THE QUESTION that arises is whether private judgment can be tolerated even in matters affecting an ally. In a word, does the United States, as a government, present data or materiel to an ally, or is it done by an individual scientist or engineer covertly at his own discretion?

It will probably further be shown that a number of persons now employed at Fort Monmouth take the plea of the Fifth Amendment on ground that to answer a question concerning present or past espionage against the United States would incriminate the employe of the government of the United States.

It will be shown that the enforcement of security provisions was lax and that the system of promotion, while recognizing ability, ignored security.

THE METHOD employed by the McCarthy Committee in the Monmouth case is a response to the criticism that innocent persons are smeared by being called to testify.

The mere act of testifying, even as a friendly witness, seems to cast doubt upon the integrity of the witness. In the public mind, he is guilty by association.

Therefore, all the Monmouth hearings are held in executive session, a report being made of the content of the testimony without reference to the names of witnesses.

There has been only one breach of this rule thus far and it should not have happened. The method ought to be given a good try because friendly witnesses are the only true lead to the facts and they must be protected or they will not testify, preferring to risk the consequences of contempt.

Not all the persons involved were spies or are unfriendly witnesses. Decency requires that judgment be without until testimony is taken at open hearings.

FURTHERMORE, the testimony in closed sessions makes it possible for the investigaters to have the entire picture before them in advance of open hearings, thus avoiding unnecessary and irrelevent questioning. Also, it saves expenses, a large item being stenographic costs, which are enormous.

The significance of the Monmouth spy ring is that a number of laboratories are situated at this fort which are used in experimental and development work in physics and electronics. Here radar is being developed into a major defensive weapon.

IF THE ENEMY is able to know in advance what our defensive means are, he can devise counter-defensive weapons and processes to offset any advantage that we may have. In a word, our defenses can be neutralized.

It is only natural that the Russians should engage in this kind of espionage; it ought to be routine that every possible procedure is constantly being employed to safeguard such work from spies, whether American or foreign.

This apparently is what the McCarthy Committee is checking with some success.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

ALBANY

There no longer can be any doubt that men in the upper brackets of our nation's highest judicial, political, labor and business circles now find themselves linked to those in the upper rackets in a coast-to-coast campaign to free labor extortionist and terrorist Joe Fay from his old Sing Sing prison cell

RIESEL

These nationally famous men, some of international reputation, are the only ones who can make public the clues to the identity of a crowd so powerful it could get mayors, governors, gubernatorial candidates and even some reaching into Supreme Court circles to write to Gov. Thomas Dewey urging clemency for the Mr. Big of labor racketeering.

Mucht of the list of those who wrote can now be revealed for the first time.

ON THE LIST of those asking for clemency for Joe Fay, former boss of the AFL Operating Engineers Union—without which not a building, not a road, not a waterway, not an arsenal could be constructed—are:

AFL leaders George Meany, Dave Beck Bill McFetridge, William L. Hutcheson, Charles MacGowan of the Boilermakers, Dick Gray, Harry Bates of the Bricklayers, first vice president Matthew Woll. L. P. Lindelof, then general president of the Painters union

Also Vince Murphy, the New Jersey AFL leader who was mayor of Newark; Louis Marciante, president of the New Jersey Federation of Labor Tom Murray, New York State AFL president; Harvey J. Hogan, president of the Wood, Wire, and Metal Lathers International union. Robert Byron, official of the Sheet Metal Workers International Assn.; Joseph Morris, president of the Jewelry Workers, and J. H. Lyons, president of the International Bridge Structural Iron Workers, whose local in Joppa tied up atomic power for weeks

-:-

ALSO WILLIAM McCARTHY, general president of the International Marble Slate Workers; Joe O'Neill, general president of the Distilling Wine Workers International Union, and Charles Hanson, president of the New York State Council of Carpenters.

Also Patrick Gorman, leader of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters, and Matthew Woll. It should be pointed out that Woll wrote to say that he had had no business dealings with Fay, but that he felt clemency was warranted after four years imprisonment.

On this list too is one Jay Rubin, head of the New York Hotel Trades Council, who has broken with the Communists

In discussing his dispatch of such a letter, Rubin told me that Fay had helped to build the Hotel Trades Council. When approached by one of Fay's lieutenants, Rubin wrote to Gov. Dewey in Fay's behalf.

THIS LINK is a significant revelation of Fay's cynicism. For years Fay worked with the Hotel Trades Council, which was a Communist front until Rubin split with the comrades.

Rubin told me that in 1937 and 1938, Fay and George Scalise, another convicted labor extortionist, helped to build the Hotel Trades Council, out of which sprang one of the Communists' most powerful agents, a man by the name of John Steuben

Steuben is an old Communist China hand, who helped the Red army there and was recalled to the U. S for special work in the hotel field here.

Yet the full force of Joe Fay's terror machine was thrown behind Rubin's Hotel Council for over 10 years—during which it was a Communist front

Small wonder Fay soon became the Mr. Big of labor crime, a national syndicate all by himself. Small wonder he could get men to front for him and reach into New Jersey gubernatorial and mayoralty circles and even across country to California for powerful letter writers in behalf of his release.

SMALL WONDER most of these letters said that Fay could keep labor peace—that one word from him would settle a bitter dispute between powerful unions, as Acting Lt. Gov. Arthur Wicks of New York revealed over the air Sunday in explaining his own visits to Fay. No matter what Wicks says, he tried to keep these visits quiet.

Among the businessmen who signed such letters to Gov. Dewey were Anthony J. Pope, president of the Colonial Sand and Stone Co., 30 Rockefeller Plaza, N.Y.C. He wrote that, "May was extremely helpful to me in assisting me to solve any labor problem."

How could Fay do that while in Sing Sing cell? What powers could he exert though he had been officially ousted from the Operating Engineers? Certainly Pope and all the others owe the public an explanation.

THERE WAS Tom Cummins, president of the Contractors Protective Assn. of New York, and even a bank president—A. B. Weller, head of the Meadow Brook National Bank, Merrick, N. Y.

This bank president wrote in behalf of friends of Fay. And Joe Fay must have had many such powerful friends, for never before in the history of imprisoned men, not even in the famous Mooney and Billings and Sacco and Vanzetti cases, was such a combination whipped up.

These men whom labor considered its own martyrs could not get half the powerful support a convicted extortioner could.

Why? Who did it? Certainly Atty General Brownell should launch a national probe. Or is the entire nation terrorized"

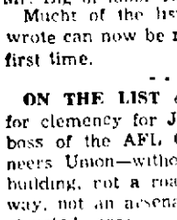
'Judge Not'

By Inez Robb

In the hands of a relentless and remorseless foe, I hope I would endure with courage and fortitude. But I don't know I just don't know.



INEZ ROBB

I can only hope that I would have the strength to cling to the faith of my fathers when the chips were down and the pressures applied.

But what man, who has never stood naked and alone before an alien foe, can really gauge the level of his own courage? What individual, innocent of such experience, can be certain how much pain, how much cold and hunger, how much devouring fatigue he can bear?

THE MIRACLE it seems to me is not that a handful of American soldiers captured by the enemy in Korea have chosen—so far as we know—to stick with the Communist side, but that so many endured the terrible physical hardships, the gnawing anxieties, actual torture and constant brain-washing without breaking

As this is written, one American soldier of the 23 who cast their lot with the Communists has asked and received repatriation. Others, given the chance, may want to come home, too.

We can hope so, not from the point of view of national pride but from that of Christian concern for the future fate and happiness of 22 young men who have suffered trials of the spirit and the flesh which most of us have been spared and which we cannot really imagine.

I HAVE NEVER been a prisoner in the hands of a harsh enemy for as much as an hour, much less for three years as was Cpl. Edward S Dickenson, 23, the American soldier who asked repatriation.

There are already a number of quite vocal Americans who are willing to sit in judgment of Dickenson and the 22 U. S. soldiers who, to date, are said to prefer Communism to Americanism.

But I do not think that I am qualified to say that the corporal and the other dissenters should be whipped out of society, or brought to trial or branded with a scarlet "T"

I simply do not know my own breaking point in the brutal circumstances under which these men made their decisions.

I hope I would have held out as long as there was breath in my body.

BUT WHO, never tried in the fire, can be certain that he would have held steadfast for a day, a week or a year?

During World War II as I read of the heroic deeds of the Underground throughout Europe, I was plagued with uncertainty as to whether, under the same circumstances, I could have endured as so many brave men and women did.

It was obviously a problem that haunted many persons, for two years after the end of the war a serious novel dissecting that problem became, oddly enough, a best seller.

This book by David Davidson is called "The Steeper Cliff" and can now be bought in a 25-cent Bantom edition. This thoughtful and sensitive book explores the secret and the limits of human courage.

THE STORY concerns the search of Andrew Cooper, an American Army officer, for Adam Lorenz, a fiercely anti-Nazi German and leader of the Underground in Germany during the war years.

In that search, Cooper unearthed a number of brave men. Each had been truly brave but each had had his breaking point, his level of courage, beyond which he could not go.

Each, that is, except Adam Lorenz, whose spirit was still alive in his shattered flesh when Cooper chanced upon him.

"The Steeper Cliff" is a good and humbling book to read in these times.

United Appeals Drive Reaches Closing Stages

With the second report meeting scheduled for Monday night, the hundreds of salesmen and saleswomen in the 1953-54 Marion County United Appeals Drive are in the home stretch to raise $170,462 to finance the work of Red Feather agencies next year.

At the first report meeting the workers turned in $64,251, or nearly 38 per cent of the goal in contributions and pledges.

While the campaign is off to a good start, division leaders today urged the workers to make every contact and cautioned against a let-down which might hamper the results of the campaign.

Mrs. W. A. Dennis, vice chairman in charge of the women's division, particularly urged the saleswomen to take advantage of the generosity of the weatherman and canvass every residence in their assigned territory. "Let's not miss one house or one pledge," she urged.

Monday night's report meeting will be held at 6 p.m. at the YMCA. Mrs. A. B. Augenstein, vice chairman in the county, will preside and speaker will be Mrs. Richard Morgan, head of the residential canvass.

The women's division will again be in the spotlight when the saleswoman in the county turning in the largest number of pledges receives an orchid, a gift from the general chairman, Cutler A. McGrew.

Sycamore Residents Wed In Bucyrus Ceremony

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS — Miss Lois Stetzer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Stetzer of near Sycamore, became the bride of Harold Brewer, son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Brewer of near Sycamore, in a ceremony performed Saturday afternoon in the rectory of Holy Trinity Church here by Rev. Fr. Leo Reinartz, church pastor.

Miss Dorothy Siefker, Toledo, was maid of honor and Vernon Brewer of Sycamore served as best man for his brother. Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.

Mrs. Brewer is a graduate of Holmes-Liberty High School and the Maumee Valley Hospital School of Nursing in Toledo. She is on the nursing staff at Bucyrus City Hospital. Mr. Brewer, a 1947 graduate of Lykens High School, is employed at the Zeigler Milling Co. in Bucyrus. He served two years in the army.

Square Dancing Group Organized at YMCA

An organization meeting of "Y Squares," adult square dancing group, was held Thursday night at the YMCA with Mrs. Cecil W. Gabler as instructor.

During a short business session, it was decided that the group will meet the second Thursday and the third Saturday of each month in the Youth Center of the YMCA. Membership in the group is open to the public.

Officers elected were George Balsley, president; Donald Stose, vice president; and Miss Evelyn Kristoff, secretary-treasurer.

Miami Installs New President

Dr. John D. Millett Is University's 16th

OXFORD, Ohio (AP)—Dr. John D. Millett, a 41-year-old native of Indiana, was inaugurated today as the 16th president of Miami University.

A score of college presidents wee among more than 300 educators who watched the inaugural ceremonies conducted by John B. Whitlock of Middletown, president of Miami's board of trustees.

Then they heard Dr. Grayson L. Kirk, president of Columbia University and a Miami graduate, pay tribute to Dr. Millett and say, "If Columbia had to lose John Millett, I would rather lose him to Miami than to any other university."

Dr. Millett was a professor public administration at Columbia at the time of his appointment earlier this year to succeed the late Dr. Ernest H. Hahne was president of Miami.

In his speech, Dr Kirk declared there is a clear and dangerous incompatability between ignorance and the survival of our society. He asserted there is no solution to the problem except through education.

"Our huge state universities are making heroic and successful efforts in the field of mass education," he continued. "But the nature of the problem before us is such that we must also have well trained leaders as generally educated citizens."

Dr. Millett, who assumed his duties as Miami's president last September, was born in Indianapolis and was graduated from Depauw University, Greencastle, Ind. He also obtained degrees at Columbia.

TOLEDO DRIVER ARRESTED

A Toledo man was the only person arrested yesterday by patrolmen from the Marion post of the state highway patrol. He was Clyde Coulter, 48, arrested at 7:50 p.m. on Route 23 for crossing the yellow line. He posted bond for appearance in Municipal Court today.

Driver Starts Sentence After Bucyrus Arrest

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS — Forrest J. Roberts, 27, of Mansfield, began serving a three-day mandatory jail sentence in the Crawford County jail here Thursday after being arrested by state highway patrolmen for drunken driving.

Roberts was the first person to be sentenced by Mayor Frank P. Stiler since a city ordinance was changed this week to conform with state laws in making a jail sentence mandatory in case of conviction for driving while drunk. He also was fined $100 and costs

Highway patrolmen of the Bucyrus district post arrested Roberts Wednesday night near here. The patrolmen said Roberts' car almost struck their cruiser head-on.

ISSUES AND LEVIESTO BE VOTED ON:

CITY ISSUES AND LEVIES

"SHALL A COMMISSION BE CHOSEN TO FRAME A CHARTER?" AND FOR THE ELECTION OF THE MEMBERS OF THE COMMISSION.

(Majority affirmative vote is necessary for passage.)

CANDIDATES FOR CHARTER COMMISSION

PERRY J. BACHELDER
MARY K. BIRCH
MAX BIRNBAUM
EDITH L. BROWN
ROBERT R. BUSH
CARL F. HABERMAN
GEORGE B. JONSSON
ROBERT E. KIBBEY
H. FRANCIS McDANIEL
FREDERICK T. MERCHANT
HENRY A. MICKLEY
WALTER D. MOORE
LAWRENCE M. SAGER
ROY H. WADDELL
JOHN J. WISSLER

A YES vote on this question would authorize the election of a Charter Commission who would serve without compensation and whose duty it would be to frame a charter for local self-government in accordance with the laws of the State of Ohio. The 15 candidates whose names appear on the ballot have been selected from each of the six wards in the city. This should assure that the desires of all the citizens would be given consideration. Election of a Charter Commission would not mean the adoption of any form of home rule charter at this time. After a study of the local community, a Charter Commission would frame a charter, which would be submitted to the voters at a future election.

The League has taken a stand in favor of the election of a Charter Commission, after a study of local government by its members and by a majority vote of its membership.

An additional tax for the benefit of the City of Marion, O., for the purpose of CURRENT EXPENSES OF THE SUBDIVISION, TO WIT: FUNDS FOR THE OPERATION AND MAINTENANCE OF THE NEW SEWAGE TREATMENT PLANT at a rate not exceeding ¾ mill for each one dollar of valuation, which amounts to seven and one half cents ($.075) for each one hundred dollars of valuation for a period of five (5) years, tax years 1953, 1954, 1955, 1956 and 1957.

(Sixty per cent affirmative vote necessary for passage.)

An annual expenditure of approximately $45,000 will be needed to operate and maintain the new enlarged sewage disposal plant now nearing completion at a cost of $820,000. We voters should realize that consideration of this proposed levy offers two choices in the method of financing the operating cost. A possible alternative to the levy to provide for the maintenance of the new plant would be the enactment of a sewer service charge.

The League has taken no stand on this issue.

COUNTY LEVIES

An additional tax for the benefit of County of Marion, O., for the purpose of THE CONSTRUCTION AND ACQUISITION OF A SPECIFIC PERMANENT IMPROVEMENT, TO-WIT: THE CONSTRUCTION AND INSTALLATION OF AN ELEVATOR IN THE MARION COUNTY COURT HOUSE at a rate not exceeding ½ mill for each one dollar of valuation, which amounts to five cents ($0.05) for each one hundred dollars of valuation, for a period of one (1) year, tax year 1953.

(Fifty - five per cent affirmative vote necessary for passage.)

The County Commissioners have a mandate from the Common Pleas Court to build an elevator in the County Court House.

An additional tax for the benefit of County of Marion, O, for the purpose of THE CONSTRUCTION AND ACQUISITION OF SPECIFIC PERMANENT IMPROVEMENTS, TO-WIT: CONSTRUCTION, RECONSTRUCTION, ENLARGEMENT AND EXTENSION OF COUNTY BUILDINGS, AND ESPECIALLY A HOSPITAL UNIT FOR THE MARION COUNTY HOME at a rate not exceeding ½ mill for each one dollar of valuation, which amounts to five cents ($0.05) for each one hundred dollars of valuation, for a period of three (3) years, tax years 1953, 1954 and 1955.

(Sixty per cent affirmative vote necessary for passage.)

The County Commissioners explain that the present hospital room at the County Home is situated directly over the kitchen with no way of possible escape in case of fire.

An additional tax for the benefit of County of Marion, O., for the purpose of CURRENT EXPENSES OF THE COUNTY OF MARION, O., at a rate not exceeding ½ mill for each one dollar of valuation, for a period of three years, tax years 1953, 1954 and 1955.

(Sixty per cent affirmative vote necessary for passage.)

Operating costs have increased greatly during the last few years, while the increase in revenue has been comparatively small.

The League of Women Voters has taken no stand on the County issues

STATE ISSUES

All 9 issues are Proposed Constitutional Amendments, proposed by Resolution of the General Assembly of Ohio. A majority of those voting on each issue is necessary for passage of each.

1. SHALL THE PROPOSED AMENDMENT OF ARTICLE VIII OF THE CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE OF OHIO, TO PROVIDE ADEQUATE HIGHWAYS IN OHIO AND TO ISSUE REVENUE BONDS IN AN AMOUNT NOT TO EXCEED FIVE HUNDRED MILLION DOLLARS TO PROVIDE FUNDS THEREFORE, BE ADOPTED?

2. SHALL THE PROPOSED AMENDMENT OF ARTICLE VI, SECTION 4 OF THE CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE OF OHIO, TO CREATE A STATE BOARD OF EDUCATION, BE ADOPTED?

Amendment 2 creates a state board of education. It would operate the state department of education. The state director of education would be selected by the board. Details regarding selection and size of the board would be decided by the Legislature.

The Ohio League of Women Voters supports Amendment 2, because it has been studied and approved and is on the League Platform.

3. SHALL SECTION 1 OF ARTICLE IX OF THE CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE OF OHIO BE AMENDED BY ELIMINATING THE WORD "WHITE" AND PROVIDING FOR MILITIA DUTY FOR ALL MALE CITIZENS?

4. SHALL ARTICLE IX, SECTION 2 OF THE CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE OF OHIO, RELATIVE TO ELECTION OF OFFICERS OF THE MILITIA, BE REPEALED?

5. SHALL THE PROPOSED AMENDMENT OF ARTICLE II OF THE CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE OF OHIO, TO CORRECT CONFLICTS WITH THE UNITED STATES CONSTITUTION, BE ADOPTED?

6. SHALL THE PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO ARTICLE XV, SECTION 4 OF THE CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE OF OHIO, TO REMOVE RESTRICTIONS ON ELIGIBILITY OF WOMEN TO HOLD CERTAIN OFFICES, BE ADOPTED?

7. SHALL SECTIONS 1, 2, AND 3, OF ARTICLE XIV OF THE CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE OF OHIO, RELATIVE TO REVISION OF PROCEEDINGS OF COURTS, BE REPEALED?

8. SHALL SECTION 3, OF ARTICLE XVII OF THE CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE OF OHIO, RELATIVE TO ELECTED OFFICIALS HOLDING OFFICE ON NOV. 7, 1905, BE REPEALED?

9. SHALL SECTION 2A, OF ARTICLE VIII OF THE CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE OF OHIO, PROVIDING FOR A WORLD WAR I BONUS, BE REPEALED?

LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS OF MARION

Mrs. Robert Axe, President
Mrs. Carl Schell, 1st V. P.
Mrs. Francis Wanda, 2nd V. P.
Mrs. Robert Stout, Sec'y.

Radio and Television

By John Crosby

Welles' Lear

Orson Welles, a great ham of an actor, undertook the role of King Lear, a great ham of a part, on "Omnibus" last Sunday and was, I thought, enormously impressive. This was the great Orson's television debut and it was a fortunate inspiration to cast him as Lear. No other part is big enough for Welles who suffers from gigantism of manner and mind.

J. CROSBY

Welles, whose five-year sojourn abroad has added quite a lot of poundage to his face and the rest of him, was every inch a king, a phrase that came from Lear, and his voice, a redoubtable organ, was superb in declaiming some of the most sweeping poetry in all of Shakespeare.

I HAD NEVER SEEN "King Lear" before. It isn't done very often and, when it is performed, is seldom, I'm told, well done. In fact, a body of opinion holds that Lear, magnificent as it is in print, doesn't play very well, that the appalling range of good and evil simply is too outsize to put on a stage.

After watching it Sunday, I fail to see this argument. "King Lear" is not the most plausible of Shakespeare's plays. Lear's abysmal stupidity at the opening of the play, the two daughters Regan and Goneril, conceivably the most evil characters in all literature, the shining nobility of Cordelia, the lust and cruelty and avarice and insanity of some of the characters are a little hard to take all in one play. Shakespeare really threw the book at us in this one.

Still, when put in the hands of a good cast—and this was a very good one—the play comes to life beautifully. Peter Brook, the brilliant young English director, cut the play from two and a half hours to something under 90 minutes. The main plot—Lear's mistreatment at the hand of his wicked daughters—remained substantially intact. The subplot—the Earl of Gloucester's parallel experiences with his two sons—disappeared.

HOWEVER, SINCE there is a certain overlapping between main and subplots, some of the sense of the play disappeared with it. Gloucester's main function in this version was to have his eyes plucked out, a scene I had just as soon Shakespeare had never written. Since he did, I would have been happy if Mr. Brook had performed the operation out of camera range somewhere. But no, it was all in there in all its gory details.

The end of Lear is a tough thing for anyone to pull off successfully. Practically everything is happening at once. The King of France invades the land. Cordelia and the King are captured and imprisoned. Goneril and Regan are both making passes at Gloucester's bastard son, Edmund. Regan is about to walk off with the boy when Goneril poisons her. Incidentally, this was purely inexplicable. Regan suddenly collapses and dies without, to my knowledge any explanation.

In the text, Shakespeare dismisses this particular homicide with only a few lines, but a director must see to it that these few lines are properly emphasized.

GIVEN SUCH LINES as "Howl howl howl howl! O you are men of stone," the temptation must be strong to any actor to howl down the wind. Welles resisted it. You can hardly give a restrained performance of Lear, but Welles kept himself decently reined in, even in the storm scene where the language is as wild as the elements.

The production, I'm happy to report, followed classic lines. For once, they didn't put the actors in costumes out of "The Student Prince" against settings out of Louis XIV. The castles were appropriately medieval, full of portcullises, drawbridges, flickering torches and the like. Welles was bearded and majestic and caparisoned like a king.

BEATRICE STRAIGHT as Goneril and Margaret Phillips as Regan were finely poisonous as the two dear little sisters, though I doubt that any actresses could give full justice to those murderous roles.

Alan Badel played the extraordinarily difficult role of the Fool with great compassion and warmth but he was occasionally inaudible. And there were fine performances by Natasha Parry as Cordelia (which isn't really a very good part), Bramwell Fletcher as Kent and Arnold Moss as the Duke of Albany.

Altogether, it was a memorable hour and a half and I hope Mr. Welles proposes to tarry in this country long enough to do a few more plays on television.

PLEADS INNOCENT

CAMBRIDGE, Ohio (AP)—Thomas Lawrence, 56, yesterday pleaded innocent to charges of first degree murder in the fatal shooting of Mrs. Eleanor Potts Sept. 28. Lawrence entered the plea from a hospital bed where he was taken after wounding himself following the shooting of Mrs. Potts, police said.

Heaviest Rain In Three Years Falls in Texas

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP)—Farmers in most of the west Texas drought area muddied their boots happily today after the heaviest rains in three years.

And more rain may come. The "scattered showers" forecast which preceded yesterday's downpours of up to 8½ inches was renewed for today and tonight.

Over fields of pitifully tiny wheat, browned cattle ranges and irrigated land alike, the rain fell heavily from near dawn into the late night.

The runoff coursed into two small towns, Spur and Dickens, about 75 miles east-southeast of Lubbock, forcing some evacuations. It also ran down the beds of long-dry creeks, spilled over highways and covered bridges.

The rains were general in the great South Plains area which centers at Lubbock, reaches west to the New Mexico border, 60 miles south to drought-weary Lamesa, 70 miles east past Dickens, and 45 miles north to Plainview.

The rain also fell throughout the Panhandle and in north Texas, where fall-planted wheat had gone limp under the heat and drought. Torrential rains fell in part of south Texas along the Rio Grande watershed, spilling new water into the great reservoir behind Falcon Dam, which President Eisenhower helped dedicate only last Monday.

CLOSE STATE PARK

LEBANON, Ohio (AP)—Increasing danger of forest fires as a result of the drought caused the closing yesterday of Fort Ancient State Park near here. L. J. Gray, district manager of state parks, said the park would remain closed until there is relief from the drought.

Bath Interrupted

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — A gas explosion last night rocked an eight-room frame duplex off its foundation and injured six members of two families in suburban Midwest City.

Jack Cricher, 21, said he was hurled from the bathtub into the front yard.

Geese Take Over

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Wild geese flocked down on the municipal airport like homing pigeons coming in to roost yesterday. The geese, winging southward during a heavy rain, apparently mistook the glittering airstrips for lakes.

NO MISTAKE

LOS ANGELES (AP)—David O. Gwinn, a deputy in the Los Angeles tax collector's office, received a letter yesterday from his niece in Washington, D. C. It was addressed to 419 Grandview St., Smogtown 57, Calif.

HOG KILLING TIME IS ANY OLD TIME

Now . . . you can enjoy fresh and smoked meat the year around when you use the services of our modern locker plant. No longer need you wait until cold weather before you can butcher and eat your own hogs. We make the weather in our plant . . . the chill room is 35°, the curing room is 40°, and the locker room is kept at zero. That's why we say that right now is hog killing time.

BRING US YOUR ANIMALS AND WE'LL DO THE REST

Simply rush the animal to our sanitary plant for expert handling. We'll process the meat and cure and smoke the hams, bacon and shoulders just the way you like them. Your locker will be filled with tempting roasts, steaks, chops and sausage ready for cooking.

Loyalty Board 'Softness' Hit By McCarthy

Senator Says Security Risks Kept on Jobs Despite Army Protests

NEW YORK (AP)—Sen McCarthy (R-Wis) says the "complete softness" of the screening board under the Truman administration resulted in loyalty suspects being retained at the Ft. Monmouth, N J, supersecret radar center.

McCarthy's permanent Senate subcommittee on investigations has been probing alleged Communist subversion among civilian employes at Ft Monmouth, where he conducted closed hearings yesterday. The secret sessions continue here today.

After questioning eight persons yesterday at the radar center, McCarthy said one of the witnesses had been suspended by a local loyalty board but had been reinstated by the screening board in the office of the secretary of the Army under Truman.

McCarthy, saying the witness still is working at Ft. Monmouth, said the situation "shows the complete softness of the old Truman administration."

"No matter how good a job a commanding officer did in rooting out Communists and espionage agents," McCarthy said, "he ran into the same thing with the screening board, which ordered reinstatements with back pay in many instances of six months."

"This sloppy situation at Monmouth," the senator added, "wasn't the fault of the generals or other officers. Their hands were quite thoroughly tied."

McCarthy said he would ask for records of the screening board's activities over 10 years

As the result of his probe, McCarthy said, 15 civilian workers have been suspended at Ft. Monmouth.

The senator left Ft. Monmouth yesterday afternoon to preside at a closed hearing in New York last night.

WITHDRAWAL OKAYED

WASHINGTON (AP)—The communications commission has approved withdrawal of an application by Woodruff, Inc, for a Channel 30 television station at Portsmouth, Ohio. The application had been granted tentatively. The company asked withdrawal because an official already owned the maximum number of stations permitted by law.

Halloween Costumes Are Easy To Sew

Children Show Delight Wearing Gay Garb For Costumes

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

The costume season for the young set gets off in gay style on Hallowe'en, when tricks or treats are the order of the day, and small spooks skitter gleefully about the neighborhood

Clever mothers will turn out such garb on their sewing machines, so that small fry can enter into the fun of "spook night" and also have on hand some gay costumes for future use in school plays or for costume parties.

The Wicked Old Witch and Little Red Riding Hood can easily be made from the same pattern-Advance No. 706. Local sewing center experts remind you that it is important to select patterns for children by chest measurement Do not confuse pattern size with age of child Patterns give chest measurement and corresponding waist and length measurements important in cutting the garment to fit correctly.

For these designs for example, a child with 24-inch chest measurement would take a size six pattern. After selecting the correct size for individual measurement, shorten or lengthen pattern sections as required, following the child's corresponding body measurements.

Remember, too, that although costume making calls for more elaborate trimming detail than every-day clothing, you still want to select decoration that will survive the family wash. Appliques are one solution to this, since you can cut interesting designs using odds and ends from the fabric scrap basket and achieve practical and appealing effects.

ADDING TO masquerade fun are these costumes for the Wicked Old Witch and Little Red Riding Hood which can be made in black or red sateen from one pattern. Small fry can use these costumes later when taking part in school plays or for costume parties.

New Home Dedicated At Religious Service

A religious service dedicating the recently completed home of Mr. and Mrs Elmer Weimer south of Marion was held recently with more than 30 members of Central Christian Church attending. Both Mr. and Mrs Weimer are active in work of the church and congregation. They moved into their new ranch-type home on Sunset Drive, which turns off Barks Rd, about three weeks ago.

Stressing the spiritual significance of the household, the service opened with a call to worship, "Behold, I stand at the door and knock; If any man hear My voice and open the door, I will come in." This was followed by a response by Mr. and Mrs. Weimer, and a prayer in unison.

Scripture from the thirteenth chapters of John and First Corinthians was read, and the pastor, Rev. Ashley Booth, presented "Home Thoughts." A trio composed of Mrs. Marvin Brown, Mrs. Viola Rinnert and Miss Helen Thew, sang "Bless This House," Taylor, accompanied by Miss Patricia Curl A "House Blessing" by Arthur Guiterman was given in unison, followed by benediction and closing moment of silent prayer.

CONFESS DERAILING TRAIN

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Two teenage boys have confesed derailing a 17-car freight train and planning to blow up a dam. Juvenile authorities said the boys, 15 and 13, admitted causing the $500,000 derailment of a New York Central System train Monday night by using an iron bar to force open a track switch. The 15-year-old was quoted as saying he knew where there was enough dynamite to blow up a dam on Big Walnut Creek and "had the job planned." Both are escapees from the bureau of juvenile research

Offers To Build Plants

Private Industry Hopeful Of Using Atomic Power

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — The government is going to split the atom for commercial electric power—a business tat many private combusiness that many private comlowed to enter.

They know it can be done. The government already is doing it as a side product to making the A-bomb. Now it's going to build a plant for that purpose alone

Private industry has offered to build similar plants. A number of companies have offered specific plans for one. They insist private management can develop such an industry far better than government can.

Companies wanting to try a hand at it have been held back because of. 1. The government's security clamp on atomic knowledge; 2. The huge cost of getting production under way, and 3. The high cost of operating such a plant—until mass production makes possible a price competitive with the power turned out by modern electric plants using present sources of power.

The government already has leaned hard on business brains and technical skills in developing its atomic plants and making further research studies But industry would like to get into the act on an operating basis.

North American Aviation says it can build an atomic power generator for 10 million dollars. It's proposed pilot plant would turn out enough electricity to supply 2,000 homes. The government's plant, plans for which have been announced, would power a city of 50,000.

Commonwealth Edison of Chicago has plans for a plant costing 100 million dollars and having a 211,500 kilowatt capacity.

Union Electric of Missouri and Monsanto Chemical joined to study nuclear power possibilities. Monsanto is continuing the work alone, while Union Electric this month teamed up with three other electric companies and an engineering firm to draft plans for an atomic energy plant.

Westinghouse Electric has worked on an atom power plant that could run an aircraft carrier—a project the Navy has now sidetracked. It also worked on the atomic power plant for a submarine now being built. And Westinghouse will be the principal contractor for the government's proposed electric power plant.

Many other companies have invested in studies of atomic power possibilities.

The government is expected to encourage these companies to keep up with their studies.

One day some of them may be in the business of supplying homes and industry with electricity by splitting the atom, and using the great heat generated in that process to operate power plants.

Dean Resolves Revolt Threat By Penn Band

Spat Over Spats Sets University Musicians At Odds With Faculty

PHILADELPHIA — Musicians in the University of Pennsylvania's marching band had a spat over spats—they even threatened to strike—but now they're marking time again.

White spats, they said, are just what they need to give their uniforms a touch of dash. The university didn't see it that way.

The result was almost a musical mutiny on the eve of tomorrow's Penn - Navy game at Franklin Field. "No spats, no music," was the bandsmen's ultimatum.

But Dr Arnold K Henry, dean of student affairs, talked to the ruffled musicians and restored harmony—for a while An informal strike vote, taken earlier this week, was reversed 51-16 in a secret ballot after the meeting with Dr. Henry yesterday

Spats were only one sour note in the discord Others included the university's refusal to send the band to the only away game this year, next Saturday's contest with Michigan at Ann Arbor.

On the spats isue: "I had no idea you bandsmen felt so strongly about it," the dean confessed. But he spiked a rumor that the university was committed to a no-spats policy and indicated the issue could be worked out

On the Michigan game issue: "It's a matter of cold economics," said Dr. Henry. The band's budget is $16,500 a year, he said, and the Michigan trip would cost $4,500

Other band demands were a full-time director, better practice facilities, "permanent contact" with the athletic department, inspection of the budget, and an award for band members—'sort of a key, or a letter or something."

Dean Henry agreed the band should set up a committee to discuss its problems with his office. The budget, he said, is open to any undergraduate for inspection

Most band members were satisfied. They picked up their tubas, trombones and glockenspiels and resumed rehearsals.

"The main idea," one player said, "was to blow our own horns"

Ohio Theater To Install New Wide Screen

The first new giant panoramic wide screen to be installed in a Marion theater will be put in the Ohio Theater, the manager of the theater, Lee Kramer, has announced.

Work on the project, which will cost approximately $2,500, is scheduled to start within the next seven days. When completed, some pictures showing at the theater will be seen on a screen extending from one side of the theater stage to the other.

The screen to be installed is valued at about $1,700 and measures 32 feet, 10 inches in width, and 20 feet, two inches high. For showing wide screen films on the new screen, special prints must be obtained and a special lens must be used in the projection equipment.

The theater is owned by Selected Theaters Co. of Cleveland.

Crawford Pastor, Wife Honored at Reception

Special to The Star

GALION—There were 200 church members and friends present recently to compliment Rev. and Mrs. Herbert D. Burkhart on the observance of their 25th wedding anniversary. A reception for the couple was held at the Harding Memorial Library in Blooming Grove. A "tree" from which hung 25 silver dollars, in addition to a silver tray, and another gift of money, was presented to the couple by the three congregations Rev. Burkhart serves at Blooming Grove, Ebenezer and Steam Corners. The pastor and his wife also received gifts in silver and other presents.

Guests were present from Mansfield, Galion, Martel, and Iberia, in addition to several parishioners of Rev. Burkhart's former parish at Coshocton.

Bible Words to Live by

PSALM 37:3-4—"Trust in the Lord, and do good... Delight thyself also in the Lord; and he will give thee the desire of thine heart."

* * *

Confidence in a benefactor's power and good will is one of the great blessings of the soul. To realize that there is a God of love and mercy is one of the comforts of the human heart that gives peace and strength.

The power of God's love "shed abroad in thy heart" creates a desire to do good works in gratitude and in the joy of sharing blessings with others.

The source of our confidence and devotion brings a holy, humble pleasure that we call delight. It is a gratification of a deep desire for the realized presence of God.

Confidence, righteous living, helpfulness for others will control the "desire of the heart" to bring it into conformity with the will of God, who will assuredly bless and grant the wishes of the soul.

N.Y. Stock Quotations

NEW YORK (AP)—Actively higher oils today headed a moderately advancing stock market.

Gains in the oil section ran from major fractions to between 1 and 2 points. Elsewhere in the list, gains and losses spread out over a range of a point or less with emphasis on the higher side of the market.

Railroads were buoyed by a few strong stocks, and some good gains were shown in steels, motors, coppers, chemicals and building materials. There was no real weakness seen in any major group.

Higher stocks included Atlantic Coast Line, Pacific Western Oil, Union Oil of California, Cities Service, 20th Century-Fox, Anaconda Copper, Dow Chemical, Westinghouse Electric, U. S. Steel, Chrysler, and Distillers Corp.

Harding Routs Findlay 27-0, Cinches Second Place

Prexies Run Wild During Rally in Last 2 Quarters

By JOHN SHORT

An explosive Harding ground game sputtered for the first half last night before exploding in the third and fourth periods for a 27-0 win over the Findlay Trojans

The win protected the Prexies perfect record in the Buckeye League and paved the way for a title clash here in two weeks against Fremont Ross The Prexies can finish no worse than second in the league They have whipped every team but Fremont

The Trojans of Coach Bob Harter sticking to the single wing attack failed to find the spark which last week carried them to a 6-0 win over Dayton Roosevelt ninth ranked team in Ohio

Defense Shines

While the Harding offense sputtered in the first half the defending unit managed to keep Bob August Findlay s hard-hitting fullback and little Ray Sifered, 128-pound scatback bottled up Abner Thomas Bob Hamor, Bob Prater and the rest of the linemen, continually threw the pair for losses and alert downfield defense halted the Findlay aerial game

The Trojans can thank Scout Jack Larkins, who has watched Harding in every one of its games for preventing the roof from caving in earlier The defense apparently figured to stop Chug Ballinger and Chet King and stop the Prexies It worked during the first two periods, Ballinger was smacked by the entire forward wall practically every time he carried in the first half Two fumbles resulted one of which the Trojans recaptured

Fumbles and pass interceptions hampered the Harding attack throughout the game Five bobbles stalled drives and three of the fumbles were covered by Findlay defenders Two of four passes thrown by Harding were picked off by Findlay

Coach Pete Howison who after the game admitted he had a little talk with the team, diagnosed the trouble during the halftime intermission Whatever he told the team behind the closed doors worked

New Team

A new Harding team came back to grind out touchdowns the first two times it obtained the ball One started after a Findlay punt rolled dead at the Harding 46. Joe Albinick sparked the drive with one 10 yard gallop which carried into Findlay territory He followed that up by cutting over tackle at the 47 and racing to the 16 Four plays later, he plowed in from the two John Obenour followed with one of three conversions Two plays after the kickoff Bob Prater fell on a Findlay fumble at the 39 and the Prexies were off and running again Chet King and Ballinger led the drive to the one from where Freddie Price sneaked over for the score

Doug Bibler who stole the show defensively for Harding set up the third touchdown as the Prexies turned the game into a rout He intercepted an August aerial at the Findlay 28 and carried back to the 16 early in the fourth period Ballinger picked up 12 and King and Albinick carried to the two King smashed over tackle for the score

Bibler Scoots

With slightly more than three minutes remaining Bibler pulled in another August pass at the Findlay 40 He shook off two tacklers cut to the sideline and skipped all the way A tremendous block by Bob Hamor at the 28 shook him into the open

Following the half the game was all Harding The Prexies reversed the procedure on the Findla team Running from the single wing a power formation, the Trojans managed to gain just 25 yards on the ground during the second half The Prexies picked up 123 from their T attack

The game marked Findlay's homecoming and for the second week in a row Harding saw a homecoming spoiled The Prexies suffered their first loss last week in their homecoming

Miss Roberta Doney was crowned queen during the halftime festivities Her twin brother, Robert served as her escort

Coach Bob Harter and his assistants were not happy with the Trojans performance but had words of praise for the entire Harding backfield He commended Freddie Price who took over the signal calling for the Prexies and singled out Hamor Prater and Bibler for their defensive play

With the Trojan attack primed to stop King and Ballinger, Joe Albinack took over He was the Prexies' top-carrier Joe lugged the ball 13 times to rack up 113 yards

TURPIN HITS DECK IN NINTH ROUND. A right to the jaw drops Randy Turpin to the canvas in the ninth round of the middleweight title bout against Bobo Olson in Madison Square Garden in New York City Turpin takes count of seven as Referee Al Berl moves in at the sound of the bell, ending the round Olson won a unanimous decision to take the title vacated by Sugar Ray Robinson

Bellevue Nips Galion Eleven

GALION — A strong Bellevue eleven defeated Galion 26-0 here last night

It was Parents Night and the parents of 23 Galion football players were honored Each parent wore a placard bearing the number worn by the son Parents were introduced at the half The Junior High School band made its first and only fall appearance The Senior High School band's marching unit gave a show in honor of the appearance in Galion tonight of the U S Marine Corps concert band

The victory for the Bellevue gridders was the fourth out of five league games while the Tigers lost the third game of the Northern Ohio League The Tigers have won one game and tied one

Neither team scored in the first quarter In the second quarter, Bellevue scored a touchdown on a pass from Lepley to Roberts

The third quarter was scoreless Then in the fourth period the bottom dropped out for Galion Tigers Beckman scored a touchdown on a 13 yard run and Lepley made the extra point Then Bellevue's Moyer scored the third touchdown on a one yard plunge and Lepley made the extra point Moyer scored again on a 15 yard run for the final touchdown of the game

Middleweights Clash In Television Feature

NEW YORK (AP)—Pierre Langlois of France and Garth Panter of Salt Lake City a pair of lively middleweights, keep the 160-pound class busy tonight with a 10-round bout at Madison Square Garden

Although the big town is middleweight minded after Bobo Olson's victory over Randy Turpin both a sellout crowd there probably won't be more than 9,000 on hand for this nationally televised bout It will be carried on ABC radio and NBC TV at 10 p m, EST

Furillo Voted NL's Comeback Ace of Season

NEW YORK (AP)—Carl Furillo today boasted another laurel for 1953 to go with his National League batting crown For increasing his hitting average nearly 100 points the Brooklyn Dodger outfielder was named the player making the best comeback of the year in the National League

Furillo edged teammate Gil Hodges for the accolade with 179 members of the Baseball Writers Assn of America casting a vote in The Associated Press annual poll The rifle armed Pennsylvanian received 66 votes while 55 selected Hodges

Twenty National League players were mentioned in the balloting Monte Irvin of the Giants was third with 21 votes followed by Cincinnati's Gus Bell with 11 and Milwaukee's Warren Spahn with seven

Olson Passes Welcome Home Party, Too Tired

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — World middleweight champion Carl (Bobo) Olson arrived home yesterday too weary to participate in a planned civic reception

"Any other time if they want to he said

A representative of Mayor Elmer Robinson said a reception definitely will be held— how extensive depends largely on Olson's own desires"

Wrecks 'Em Up

Leahy Fears Irish 'Luck' May Fail in Tech Battle

By ED CORRIGAN

NEW YORK (AP) — Notre Dame and Georgia Tech mightiest of the mighty meet tomorrow in the No 1 game of the campaign as the college football season rushes toward a climax

Unless it wind up in a deadlock one of these behemoth will be stretched on the turf at South Bend Ind Georgia Tech unbeaten in its past 31 games has come along fast after a shaky start Notre Dame undefeated in seven has reigned as the top team in the land in every weekly Associated Press football poll to date

The part the boys figure in the program though There will be plenty of dissension between Johnny Bright Drake Missouri Valley ball toter and Ron Beagle Army end who is the top contenders but get a load of Minnesota's Jim Sandusky and Rice's Dick Moegle both of whom could pick up the marbles in Austin And on the Pacific Coast California will try to stop Oklahoma's Tree by beating Southern California

Tonight the big one pits Maryland the third ranked team in the country, against the University of Miami at Miami This figures to be nothing more than a brisk workout for the terrors of the Atlantic Coast Conference

Georgia Tech's Coach Bobby Dodd thinks he has his troops up for the Irish— and the team itself thinks it can win but he has problems He knows that if Notre Dame beats his outfit it probably will be through the light line This makes the Engineers rather easy to score on

Leon Hardeman is the Tech high scorer and unless Notre Dame can stop him and his running mate Glenn Turner, the Engineers will cause trouble

Notre Dame Coach Frank Leahy is his usual pessimistic self For one thing, he can't understand why his club has been named No 1 He also pointed out that the South Bedders have had all the best of the breaks

Maybe we won't be so lucky one of these days he said darkly Maybe Tech won't make any mistakes and then where'll we be

Johnny Lattner's trained heel is now sore around and Bob Goukler the fierce Notre Dame end two punch are set and rarin to go

Much in State No 2 in the national ranking figures to strengthen as Big Jim Stuck when it plays Purdue an outfit without much punch—at least in the Spartans' league

Columbus West Wins

Harding Runners Handed Third Defeat of Campaign

A powerful Columbus West cross country team handed Harding its third defeat in eight starts this year with a 23-32 win here Thursday. It marked the first West victory over the Harding runners in six years of competition

West's Ralph Wheaton came in first in 10:28, shattering Worthington's Jack Blackburn's 1952 record of 10 30 1 Gene Monroe paced the Harding team, also breaking the record with 10 29 but having to settle for second spot

Monroe also established a new Harding mark, breaking John Ashworth's 1951 record of 10 35 3

Coach Ken Somerlot's runners were slightly under par as co-captain Hugh Kinnamon and Allen Green were slowed down by colds With only five outstanding runners, the locals suffered a blow when some had bad days.

Ben Dozier set a new record for a Harding sophomore when he toured the course in 10 57 5.

Harding hosts Worthington Tuesday at the Country Club The locals will be out after revenge for Worthington's early season win

Results:

SHORT SPORTS

By John Short

Duck hunters in this area were warned this week to take extra precaution if hunting in the Indian Lake marsh areas.

SHORT

The division of wildlife of the Ohio Department of Conservation issued the warning. The division told hunters to be extra careful of rattlesnakes.

While the problem is not considered too dangerous duck hunters were warned the type snake sighted in the area is one of only three poisonous reptiles found in Ohio

Game protectors and residents of the lake area have reported seeing several of the snakes, classed as the massasauga species, during recent weeks. The balmy weather during the past month has been credited with bringing the snakes back out of hibernation.

The department of wildlife advises all hunters to be alert for the snakes and to wear ample protection around the legs.

ROUGH ONE. Fans who missed the Wednesday night hockey game certainly passed up a honey. The Barons and Milwaukee Chiefs hooked up in a real roughy. Paul Emms took to the ice in a fighting mood and was ready to scrap on three occasions, one of which cost him five minutes in the penalty box.

The boards surrounding the ice took a terrific pounding from the opening faceoff and Moe Roberts was a little worried. After the second period, he made a hurried inspection tour of the walls to find if they were taking the beating.

The crowd at the tilt was the smallest since the Barons made their debute here The Bobo Olson-Randy Turpin fight kept many fans glued to their television sets and even some of those who attended left the Coliseum after the second period in order to make the fight.

RECOVERY. Ernie Bonanno, hard-hitting little halfback for the Lima St. Rose football team, is in the thick of a fight for state scoring honors Last week against Ada, he raced to four touchdowns and kicked an extra point to boost his five-game total to 91 points. St. Rose won 48-6.

Prior to the start of the season, St. Rose had been touted to go undefeated and it had made a tremendous effort until bumping into Marion St. Mary and absorbing a 7-0 loss That was the only time this season Bonanno or the St. Rose team has been stopped

Grand Slam Title Won by Ray Boone With Four Blasts

NEW YORK (AP) — One major league record and a National League mark were tied as a result of bases-filled home runs during the 1953 season

Ray Boone, by walloping four grand-slams, equalled the major league standard held by nine other players, among them Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig

The Cubs' Ralph Kiner drove out the 12th bases-loaded homer of his career on June 14 off Brooklyn's Carl Erskine, and now shares National League honors with Rogers Hornsby in that department

In all 46 grand slams were hit, 26 in the National League and 20 in the American, Associated Press statistics showed today

The New York Giants and the Brooklyn Dodgers led the National League with six grand-slams each The Cleveland Indians topped the American with five

Virgil Trucks Edges Williams For AL Laurels

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP)—Virgil Trucks, who was tagged with 19 defeats in 1952 despite hurling two no-hitters, was voted today as the American League's Comeback Kid of 1953.

The 34-year-old right-hander, who began the season with the lowly St. Louis Browns but was sold to the Chicago White Sox in June, edged out the great Ted Williams for the honor on the strength of his 20 victories, 15 of them compiled with the White Sox.

Trucks received 55 votes to 50 for Williams. Mickey Vernon, Washington's brilliant first baseman and the junior circuit's batting king, drew 29 votes to place third. Jimmy Piersall, sensational Boston Red Sox outfielder, was fourth with 22 votes

A total of 179 members of the Baseball Writers Association of America participated in the Associated Press' annual poll They gave six votes each to pitchers Ellis Kinder of Boston and Bob Porterfield of Washington, four to infielder Ray Boone of Detroit, two to southpaw Eddie Lopat of the New York Yankees and one each to Al Rosen of Cleveland, Bob Elliott of the White Sox and Irv Noren of the Yankees.

The 50 ballots cast for Williams was a tremendous tribute to the Red Sox slugger who turned in a spectacular .407 batting mark in 37 games in August and September following his return from Korea.

The comeback of Trucks is an amazing story of a different kind The fireballer was absolutely useless in 1950 A mysterious shoulder laid him low for practically the entire season His arm regained some of its strength the following year. But in 1952, Trucks, then with the Detroit Tigers, spent a miserable year. Despite his two no-hitters, he won only five of his 24 decisions for the worst record of any American League hurler

He was traded to the Browns the following winter

Under Paul Richards, he reeled off 10 straight triumphs for Chicago and worked his way to the mainstay of the staff with his first 20-game season. He took part in 40 games, pitched 264 innings, 17 complete games and 5 shutouts

Kenton Grid Team Rolls By Ada 27-6

KENTON—Ada's Bulldogs scored first early in the opening quarter but George Keel's Kenton Wildcats turned on the power for a 26-7 win, their third of the season, in their annual gridiron rivalry before a Parents Night crowd here Thursday night.

Ada scored its lone touchdown with only minutes gone when fullback Vaughn Carmean took a pitchout and took off around end for 87 yards. Ernest Boutwell converted

Kenton deadlocked the score at 7-7 in the first quarter. Taking an Ada punt at their own eight, the Wildcats moved to the enemy 33-yard stripe from where Bob Butterman, quarterback went around left end on a bootleg play and J. R Hickel converted.

The home team took a 14-7 edge at intermission with a score late in the quarter. A goal line stand by Kenton stopped Ada short of a first down at the Wildcat five and he winners drove all the way to the Ada 14 from where Guy Carr went through the center of Ada's line for the score. Hickel again converted.

Recovery of a blocked Ada punt at the 27 later in the quarter set up another Wildcat score with Carr again scoring, from the 16 Kenton added its final score late in the fourth quarter. Kenton moved to the Ada 2 where Merle Highland went over.

Barons Resume Drive for First

Fresh from a 5-0 shutout over Milwaukee Wednesday night, the Marion Barons continue their drive for first place with two games against Grand Rapids over the weekend.

Marion travels to Grand Rapids Saturday, and then both teams come back to the Coliseum for a game at the Coliseum at 3 p m Sunday

The Barons' victory Wednesday night was an easy one with most of the action going on in front of the Milwaukee goal. Marion was never in serious trouble after the first 25 seconds when Joe Ingoldsby scored the initial goal of the evening.

The win moved Marion into a three-way tie for second place Grand Rapids, this weekend's opposition, is in sixth place.

Police Stop Fight Between Grapplers

The wrestlers refused to confine their grappling to the ring at the Armory last night and police had to step in to break up an impromptu basement brawl between Paul Orth and Joe Cassius.

It all started during the tag team match when Orth and Cassius were teamed up against Cowboy Curry and George Thomas. After some 15 minutes of the match had elapsed Orth got Thomas in a reverse armlock and took him to a corner where he told Cassius to hit Thomas. At it turned out Thomas hit Orth, but Orth thought his own partner had done the slugging

Finally, it broke out in a fight between the two partners, Orth and Cassius, and ended with Orth leaving the ring after refusing to have Cassius for a partner. Curry and Thomas had no trouble beating Cassius in the balance of the match

In the main event, Billy Fox won the last two falls to beat Dick Torio. Torio took the first fall in 21 minutes with a rolling leg split, but Fox came back to take the second in 14 minutes with a toe hold and clinch the match by winning the third tumble after six minutes by countering a rolling short arm scissors.

In the preliminaries Cassius beat Curry in 17 minutes while Orth took a match from George Thomas in 15 minutes.

Morral, Prospect Play 6-6 Diamond Deadlock

Prospect and Morral are still tied for first place in the county baseball league after they battled to a 6-6 deadlock in the championship play-off on the Pleasant diamond last night The game was called after seven innings because of darkness.

The two teams will again try to settle the matter when they meet at Pleasant at 3 p m. Monday Prospect capitalized on a Morral error, a two-run homer by Tom Hickman and three singles to take a 4-0 lead in the first inning.

Morral scored once in the sixth and tied things up in the seventh with four runs.

Both pitchers, Hickman for Prospect and Junior Bell for Morral, struck out 13 and walked only one. For Morral it was six runs, six hits and five errors, for Prospect six runs, eight hits and five errors.

Judge Turns Poet In Approving TV Roles for Infants

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Fifteen-month-old twins, who take turns playing Desi Arnaz' and Lucille Ball's baby son on the "I Love Lucy" television program, have had their contracts approved—with poetry.

Superior Judge Frank G. Swain yesterday approved contracts containing the morality clause standard in movie contracts. It provides that the performer must refrain from moral turpitude and have due regard for public morals.

The judge told the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Max Mayer, he was glad to see the clause in the contract for Joe and Mike. Then he asked in verse:

"Are infants too fond of the women?

"Will they hit the bottle too much?

"Will they go in swimming undiapered

"And ruin their box office touch?"

Pittsburgh Boys Make Life Net From Carpet

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Three youths were playing near a three-story apartment building yesterday when fire broke out. They spotted Mrs. Mae Rees on the roof with her 17-month-old daughter.

The youths, Ralph Ginyard, George Talafero and Edward Polk, all 14, grabbed a rug from a nearby yard and held it out. The mother dropped the child into it. The baby was uninjured.

Firemen later rescued Mrs. Rees.

4-H Club News

A Christmas party was planned when members of the Marion Busy Daisies 4-H Club gathered for a special meeting Wednesday night at the home of their advisor, Mrs. John H. Miller, at 318 Clinton St. Projects for next year were discussed and achievement certificates, pins and money from the fair were distributed. Refreshments were served by the advisor at the close of the meeting.

Utah Gets Up to Ten Inches of Snow in Storm

OGDEN, Utah (AP)—Winds and heavy snows growled through Utah yesterday.

The fast-melting snow, in southern Utah, ranged from 5 to 10 inches deep, and the winds, rolling down the western slopes of the Wasatch Mountains, produced gusts measured at 85 miles an hour in at least one northern Utah spot.

One driver, cited for driving on the wrong side of the road after an accident near Ogden, told police a gust of wind blew his auto into the path of the other car. The accident caused injuries to one person.

Tulsa Man Sues, Winds Up With 60-Days in Jail

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—A Tulsa man, sung for false arrest, breathed too close to District Judge Eben L. Taylor yesterday and wound up with a 60-day jail sentence for drunkenness.

The plaintiff, Frank Loudermilk, was ordered from the stand and given an intoximeter test. In the last 25 years, police records show, Loudermilk has been arrested 50 times.

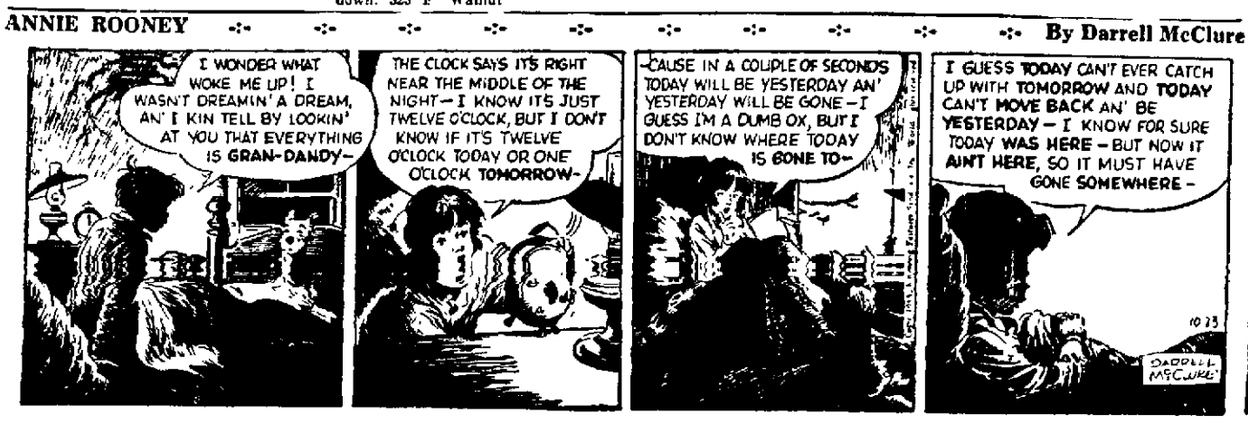
ANNIE ROONEY By Darrell McClure



I WONDER WHAT WOKE ME UP! I WASN'T DREAMIN' A DREAM, AN' I KIN TELL BY LOOKIN' AT YOU THAT EVERYTHING IS GRAN-DANDY-
THE CLOCK SAYS IT'S RIGHT NEAR THE MIDDLE OF THE NIGHT—I KNOW IT'S JUST TWELVE O'CLOCK, BUT I DON'T KNOW IF IT'S TWELVE O'CLOCK TODAY OR ONE O'CLOCK TOMORROW-
-CAUSE IN A COUPLE OF SECONDS TODAY WILL BE YESTERDAY AN' YESTERDAY WILL BE GONE—I GUESS I'M A DUMB OX, BUT I DON'T KNOW WHERE TODAY IS GONE TO-
I GUESS TODAY CAN'T EVER CATCH UP WITH TOMORROW AND TODAY CAN'T MOVE BACK AN' BE YESTERDAY—I KNOW FOR SURE TODAY WAS HERE—BUT NOW IT AIN'T HERE, SO IT MUST HAVE GONE SOMEWHERE-

STEVE CANYON By Milton Caniff

OH HOLLEE IT IS LIKE THE FAIRY TALE! THE HEROINE LIBERATES THE UNSEEN PRISONER WHO TURNS OUT TO BE THE SO-HANDSOME PRINCE!
GREAT DAY IN THE MORNIN', LISE HE IS HANSOME ISN'T HE?
WILL YOU HAVE THE SO-LARGE WEDDING AS IN THE AMERICAN CINEMA?
I HAVEN'T DECIDED QUITE YET! AFTER ALL, WE HAVEN'T EVEN BEEN ALONE TOGETHER
OF COURSE, YOU KNOW SO LITTLE ABOUT M'SIEU CANYON! IS HE POSSESSED OF WEALTH? HAS HE MANY YEARS OF AGE? IS HE MARRIED?
SOMETIMES YOU FRENCH FOLKS TALK JUS' LIKE MY YANKEE DADDY!

THE HEART OF JULIET JONES By Stan Drake

YEAH... THIS TOWN AND I MIX LIKE OIL AND WATER, AND MAYBE THAT'S THE WAY IT WAS MEANT TO BE... I'LL GET A JOB AT THE UNIVERSITY, TEACHING AND DOING RESEARCH SO I WON'T DRIVE AROUND IN A SIXTEEN-CYLINDER JOB—
BUT I'LL BE A BLAMED SIGHT HAPPIER PLAYING FRIEND AND ADVISOR TO VIRUSES THAN I AM WITH HUMAN BEINGS GUESS I'M ROTTEN COMPANY. FOR ANYTHING THAT DOESN'T FIT UNDER THE BUSINESS END OF A MICROSCOPE.
LOOK, MISS JONES, I'D LIKE TO SEE YOU TONIGHT — GOT A SORT OF SURPRISE PLANNED. O.K?
O.K, DR. DAVIS...

BIRD DOG DEFINED

OLYMPIA, Wash (UP) — The State Supreme Court, in a recent opinion acknowledged and thus defined the use of "bird dogs" in the automobile selling business. "A bird dog is a man who gives names of prospects to a salesman and then receives a split of the commission if a sale is made."

HEY, KIT CARSON!

GUERNSEY, Wyo (UP) — That famous explorer and guide Kit Carson, would be unhappy about this. C. A. McGillen of Anderson, Ida., a grandson of the frontiersman, was inspecting the area around Forth Laramie, Wyo., checking a route once traveled by Carson. McGillen got lost, his auto stuck in the sand and he had to search for help to pull out the car.

TAX COLLECTOR CUT

HADDAM, Conn. (UP) — After other town officials were voted salary increases, Tax Collector Reidt-Edelary increases. Tax Collector Edward Weiss made a suggestion for balancing the budget which promptly was adopted. His own pay was cut.
